EEN NEDERDUYTSCH GRAMMATICA,

om perfect de Neder-duytsche Tale te leeren.

A NETHERDUTCH GRAMMAR,

to learne perfectly the Netherdutch Tongue.

GRAMMAR (called the Spraak-konst.) is the art of speaking well. The Elementary Rudiments of Speech (as in other tongues) are Letters, for of Letters are made Syllables, of Syllables Words, and of Words Speeches and Sentences.

Of the Parts of Grammar.

Grammar consists in these two parts, 1. in Words, 2. in the variation of words.

In Words are taught also these two parts; Orthographie, or the right manner of writing; 2. Prosodie, or the rule of pronouncing words truly long or short.

By the knowledge of words, and the variation of words, reasons are joyned together, this is called Syntaxie, or Construction of words, and Etymologie the true exposition of a word.

In the Netherdutch Speech there are sixe and twentie letters, whose figures and names are these following: A, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, j, k, l, m, n, o, p, q, r, s, t, u, v, w, x, y, z.

These Netherdutch letters differ from our English in tone and sound, and come neerer the French pronunciation then ours doe.

Of the pronunciation of the Netherdutch Letters.

a is pronounced more fully and broader then ours, as the French a with an open mouth, or as ah in English.

b, as bia, or as the first syllable of bia-ten, geflagen.

c, as ce, or se, as in the first syllable of these words, ce-ment, or se-nate.

d, as de, or as the first syllable of dea con.

e, as ea, or as the first syllable of ea-ger.

f, as ef, or as the first syllable of ef-fect.

g, as ge, or as the first syllable of gea-lous.

h, as ha, or as the first syllable of ha-ter.

i, as our double ee, as is heard in cek.

k, as ka, as is heard in the first syllable ka-ble, for there is great affinity between e and k in the pronunciation of many words.

l, as el, as in the first syllable of el-der.

m, as em, as is heard in the first syllable of em-bers.

n, as en, or as the first syllable of en-vie.

o, differeth not much from the sound of our o, but when e followeth and that it is a Diphthong, as in this word Moeder, pronounce it as u, and as if it were written Mou-der. Also when a followeth the o as in this word vrou, pronounce it as the first syllable of frow-ard.

p, as pea, or as the first syllable of pea-cock.

q, as qu, or cu, or as the first syllables of cu-bit, or cu-rious.

r, as er, or as the first syllable of er-rour.

s, as es, or as the first syllable of es-cape.

t, as te, or as the first syllable of te-nant.

Note also that t comming before i, is pronounced as c: Example; conditie, condition, pronounce it condicie; portie, portion, as porcie.

u, as ou, having the sound of the French u, or as is heard in the first syllable of this word ou-trage.

w, as ow, or as is heard in the first syllable of ow-fill.

V u

x, as

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

x, as ex, or as the first syllable of ex-act.

y, as the sound of a double i.

z, as ze, or as the first syllable of ze-darie.

And thus much for the pronounciation of the Netherdutch letters.

These letters are divided into Vowels and Consonants.

A Vovvell is so called, because it makes a perfect sound of it selfe, and giveth life and soule to the Consonants.

There are five Vowels, a, e, i, o, u.

A Consonant is a letter which giveth a sound joyned with a Vowell.

I j, and u v are Vowels and Consonants.

The Vowell I i is heard in these vvords, Ick, I, in, in, Yemands, Any body.

The Consonant J j is heard in these vvords, Ian, John, ja, jea, jock, yoake, Ionst, Favour.

The Vowell u is heard in Ure, Houre, Uyt, Out, Hays, Housse.

The Consonant v is scene in these vvords, Vrede, Peace, Vleesch, Flesh, Vyands, Enemy.

The Consonants are divided into Mutes and Liquids.

The Mutes are f, l, m, n, r, and s, because that in pronounciation these letters goe before Vowels.

The Liquid letters are b, c, d, g, b, j, k, p, t, v, w, z. Those letters being pronouncied, end with a Vowell, as in be, ce, de, ge, ba, je, ka, pe, que, te, va, wa, ze.

Of the changing of Letters.

In the Netherdutch vvords there falls some alteration of letters; as ch is changed into g, or ge, f into z, t into d, f into v, c into k: This change is scene in this example; as, Heylich and Heylige, Holy, ch into ge; Wijz and Wijze, Wise, f into z; Woort and Woorden, Words, t into d; VVijf and VVijven, Wife, Wives, f into v; Zaet and Zaecten, Cause, Causes, c into k.

There is also some change in the letter u, which in the Plurals is changed into w: as in Leeu, Lyon, Leuwen, or also Leeuwen, Lyons; Zeeu, Zealander, Zeeuen or Zeeuwen, Zealanders; Blacu, Ble we, Blacuen or Blacuwen, Blewes; Hieu, Hewe, Hieuwen or Hieuwen,

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Hewes, or Curs. Also in the vvords Dagh, Levendigh, Hand, and Gelert, the pronounciation falls lighter when the g is changed into ch; as in Dach, Day, Levendich, Living or Quickning: and the d into t, as in Hant, Hand, Gelert, Taught.

There falls sometimes a change in the pronounciation of letters, albeit that in themselves they are without alteration when as a z followes after d f g b k p s t x, it is softly pronouncied as f. For in place of rad zeggen, af-zeggen, och zeggen, oock zeggen, op-zeggen, ons zeggen, ontzeggen, &c. wee say, rad seggen, af seggen, och seggen, oock seggen, op-seggen, ons seggen, ontseggen, &c.

And when a v cometh after b d f g b k g s t and x, it is pronouncied as f. For in place of doodt vliegen, af-varen, roock vatten, ons vieren, &c. wee pronounce doodt fliegen, af faren, roock fatten, ons fieren, &c.

There are some vvords which make a great difference by t and d, written in the end of a vvord: As, VVand, a Wall, VVant, a Mole, Rad, a Dormouse, Rat, a Wheele; Bloot, Naked, Blood, Faint-hearted; Voet, a Foote, Void, Foode.

C is changed into K, as Cop into Kop, Pate: Coopmanschap into Koopmanschap, Marchandize.

S into z, as Seker into Zeker, Sure; Suyver into Zuyver, Pure; and many more, as is to be scene in the Distionarie.

Of Diphthongs.

A Diphthonge is so called, because it hath a double sound of two Vowels in one Syllable, and are called in Netherdutch Twee-klanker, which are these following: As, Ai or ay, Au, aeu or aeuw, Ee, Ei or ey, Eu, eu or ey, Ieu or ieuw, Oe, Oey, Oy or ooy, Ou, Ue, Uy, or uu: In the knowing of these Syllables consists the chiefeft part of Orthographie.

Ae is scene and heard in these vvords, Paert, a Horse, Baer, a Beere, Haert, a Hart; which sometimes are written thus, Part, Bar, Hart, for the distinction sake.

The ai or ay is heard in Hay, Kay, but the a is pronouncied short. But in ay the a is found.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

is soundeth fully ; as in Zaay, Sowe, Maty, Mowe, Dracy, Turne.

The syllable au is heard in Snaau, a Taunt, Gau, Nimble, Kau, Chawe.

The syllable aeu seemeth to fall longer in these wordes, Blaeu, Blewe, Graeu, Gray, Raeu, Rawe, Paeu, Pea-cock.

The ae is heard in Zee, Sea, Meer, Wood.

The ey is heard in Geyt, Goat, Reycken, Reach, Reyn, Cleane or Pure.

The eu is heard in Huur, Their, Deur, Dore, Neuse, Nose.

The eeu is heard in Leuu, Lyon, Schreun, Cry, Sneeu, Snowe.

The euy is heard in Leuyheydt, Lafinesse, Stuyten, to Stop, Fluyten, to Flute. And in the Brabantish pronunciation, Uyl, Owle, Vuyl, Fowle, Luyden, Men or People, are pronounced and spelled Euyt, Veuyt, Leuyden.

The ie is heard in these wordes, Kiewissen, Lapwinckles ; Also in Zie, See, Bie, Bee, Niet, Not, Iemant, Any body.

The ieu is heard in pronouncing of Hieu, Hewe, Nieu, Newe.

The oe is heard in Zoet, Sweete, Bloet, Bloud, Goet, Good.

The oey is heard in Bloeyen, to Blossome, or Flourish, Koeyen, Cowes, Roeyen, to Rowe.

The ou is heard in Grou, Growe, Vrough, Early, Vough, Joyne. Also according to the French pronunciation in Hout, Wood, Zout, Salt, Gout, Golde.

The oy or ooy is heard in Hoyen, to make Hay, Mooyen, Meanes, Doyen, to Thawe ; or thus : Hoiën, Moien, Doien.

The ue is heard in Buer, Neighbour, Huer, Hire, Muer, Wall, Zuer, Sowre.

The uy is heard in Huys, Houfe, Luyt, Lute, Muys, Moufe. And it were better that they were written Huin, Luit, Mum.

Of Triphongs called in Netherdutch Dry-klancken.

These Triphongs are when three Vowells come together in a word, and make three severall sounds, and are these ; Aeu, ieu, uae, as is heard in these wordes following : As aeu in Flaeu-berrigheydt, Fainthartedness, Blaeu and

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Graue colour, A Blewe and a Gray colour.

Ieu, as in Hieu, Hewe, Nieu, Newe, Schieu, Shunne. Example ; Hy nam een Bijl ende Hieu een tackken van den boom, He tooke a Hachet and Hewe a bough from the tree. Again, Ongegronde Nicuwigheyt salmen Schieuen, Un-grounded Novelty one must Eschewe.

Uae, in Quaetken, Quacking ; as also in the wordes Bequaem, Fit, Quaeds, Bad or Ill.

Yeu in Yeuwers, Somewhere.

Oey in Besnoeyt, Lopt or Pruned, Geboeyt, Fettred or Shackled, Vermoeyt, Wearied, &c. And so much of Diphongs and Triphongs.

Of a Syllable, called in Dutch een Syllabe.

A Syllable is a word or part of a word uttered with one breath. And there are two kind of Syllables. The one is a Mono-syllable, consisting of one word, as God, God Man, Man. The other is called a Poly-syllable, consisting of many Syllables, as in these wordes following ; Godsheydt, Godhead, Manheydt, Manhood, Zaligheyt, Salvation, Rechverdigheydt, Righteousness, Rechverdigmakinge, Justification.

Of the partition of Syllables.

When a single Consonant cometh in a word, the Consonant is to be joynd to the last Syllable, as we read in these wordes ; Vrij-ze, Wife, Vro-me, Honest, Goet-de, Good, Romey-nen, Romans : So that the Consonants z, w, n, m and n, belong all to the last syllable.

But when a double Consonant comes in a word, the first parts with the first Syllable, and the second with the last ; as in VVis-sen, Sages, Snel-le, Swift, Zin-nen, Senses.

When two Consonants come in a word which may be pronounced together, they commonly belong to one Syllable ; as in Bes-schaemt, Ashamed, Gedwaelt, Erred, Gefchent, Defiled, or Deflowred.

When as two different Consonants come in a word, commonly the one Consonant joynes vvith the precedent, and the other Consonant vvith the Syllable following ; as in Han-den, Hands, Hoor-den, Heard, Aen-

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

xiem, Respect, Eer-baer, Honest, Lief-de, Love.

The partition of these Syllables in common rules might be written at length, but for brevities sake I will omit it.

OF ETYMOLOGIE,

or the originall true exposition of words, called in Netherdutch, de oorspronckelickheydt der woorden.

THe Etymologie, or rather the Variety of words, comprehends and shows all kinds of variation, which are in words.

How many kinds of words are there?

All words may be divided into fixe severall sorts, namely into Particles, called Ledekens, Nounes, Namen or Naem-woorden, Pronounes, Voor-namen, Verbes, Werck-woorden, Participles, Deel-woorden, Adverbes, Help-woorden, which denomination is given to words, that one may speake distinctly of each of them, as the same hapneth in the difference of Wares, Tooles, Instruments, Coines, and Weights.

Note, that these fixe kinde of words are declinable in their terminations, except the Adverbs, which for the most part are indeclinable, whereof wee will speake more at large in there due places.

Of the Particles called in Netherdutch Ledekens.

The Words or Particles de, het, and een, the, ende a, are called Ledekens, because they inseparably depend on those things whereof we speake; as being asked, Wat is dat? What is that? the answer will be, Een mensch, Een man, A man, Een boom, A tree, Een beest, A beast; in this questions the Particle Een, A ofte An, cannot be omitted, for you must not say, het is mensch, het is man, het is boom, het is beest. But of this wee will speake more at large in the Syntaxie.

Of a NOUNE.

NOUNES (called Namen, or Naem-woorden) may fitly be anotomized, according to the figure of this Table following, which doth declare the order and description of them.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Nounes are either.	Substantives, or Adjectives, which are considered in their	Quality, } Proper, or vvhich is } Common.
		Comparison, } Positive, vvhich is } Comparative, and Superlative.
		Gender, } Masculine, Feminine, and vvhich is } Neuter.
		Species, } Primitive, and vvhich is } Derivative.
		Number, } Singular vvhich is } & Plural.
		Declension, } The second, vvhich is } third, and fourth Cases.

The definition of Nounes.

Nounes are words, wherewith things corporeall and incorporeall, visible and invisible are named; as Gods, God, Geest, Spirit, Mensch, Man, Dier, Beast, Hemel, Heaven, Aerde, Earth, Lucht, Aire, Water, Water, Vyer, Fire, Wini, Winde, & thousands more.

Of the division of Nounes.

Nounes (as is above said) are considered in their Hoedanigheydt, that is, Quality, Vergelijckinge, Comparison, Geslacht, Gender, Aert, Species or Kind, Getal, Number, Figure, Figure, Buyginge, Declension. Of these in order.

Of the Quality.

Nounes are either Eygen ofte Gemeen, that is, Proper and Common.

A Noun Proper is that, which belongeth onely to one thing; as, Peter, London, Thames.

A Noun Common is that, which is common to many things; as, Mensch, Man, Stads, Towne, Revier, River.

A Noun

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

A Noun common is Self standigh, Substantive, or By-voegelijk, that is; Adjective.

Nounes Substantives are those, which standeth of themselves, and perfectly betoken inat which one nameth; as Man, Mian, Vrouw, Woman, Wijf, Wife, Berg, Mountaine, Stad, City, Hof, Court.

Nounes Adjectives are such as shewe the countenance and forme of a thing, but not the thing it selfe; as Goeds, Good, Schoon, Faire, Sterck, Strong; these and others may be added to Substantives: as, Goeds land, Good land, Een schoone stad, A faire towne or city, Een sterck huys, A strong house.

Observe also how you are to discern (By-woorden ofte By-namen) that is an Adjective from a Substantive.

The names of all things which have being are Substantive words.

Also there may be a distinction of words after an other manner, as for example one asketh or would know whether Good is a Substantive or an Adjective, set then this word Good before any knowne Substantive word, suppose it to be man, which make together Goeds man, a Good man, which shewing a reason gives one to understand that Good is an Adjective: for two Substantive words cannot stand one with an other, unlesse they be made one word.

Of Comparison, called Vergelijckinge.

Every Adjective is either compared or not compared.

There be three Degrees of Comparison: The Positive, Stelling, Comparative, Vergrootinge, Superlative, Winnemende.

The Positive betokens the thing absolutely without excess; as, Rijk, Rich, Arm, Poore, jongh, Young, Oudt, Old, Bequaem, Fit.

The Comparative exceedeth the Positive; as, Rijker, Richer, Armer, Poorer, Jonger, Younger, Ouder, Older, Bequamer, Fitter, or more Fit.

The Superlative exceedeth its Positive in the highest Degree; as, Rijkst, Richest,

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Armst, Poorest, jonghst, Youngest, Oudst, Oldest, Bequaemst, Fittest, or most Fit.

These Comparatives take commonly a r upon the end of the word, and in the Superlative Degree take to them-selves st; as, Sterck, Strong, Stercker, Stronger, Sterckst, Strongest; Zoet, Sweete, Zotter, Sweeter, Zoetst, Sweetest; Wijf, Wife, Wijfer, Wiler, Wijst, Wilest; which in the Comparatives and Superlatives agree with the English.

Some Adjectives are irregular, and swerve from this rule of Comparison, as in their Positive; Goeds, Good; Quaeds, Ill or Bad; Groot, Great. Comparative, Beter, Gooder or Better; Quader ofte Erger, Badder or Worse; Grooter ofte Meerder, Greater or More. Superlative, Best, Best; Quaedsst ofte Ergst, Badde or Worst; Grootst ofte Meest, Greatest or Most.

All Adjectives ending in n and r, being compared, have in their termination der; as for example; Snel, Swift, Snelder, Swifter; Schoon, Faire, Schoonder, Fairer; Swaer, Heavie, Swaerder, Heavier; these also are irregular from the common rule.

The incomparable Adjectives are called Participles, which end in en; as, Gehouden, Hold or Bound, Gekomen, Come, Geroepen, Called, &c.

Also all the names of Numbers are not compared; as, Een, One, Twee, Two, Drie, Three, Vier, Four, &c.

Of the Gender of Nounes, called in Netherdutch, Geslacht der woorden.

All Nounes are differenced in three Genders, namely, het Mannetick, the Masculine; het Vrouwelick, the Feminine; and the Geenerley, called the Neuter.

A Substantive of the Masculine Gender is a word of the Male kinde; as, Deze eerlick man, This honest man.

A Feminine Substantive is a word of the Female kinde; as, Die schoone vrouwe, That faire woman.

A Neuter Substantive is a word of the Neuter kinde, and is neither Masculine, nor Feminine; as, Het moy huys, The fine house.

V u 3 1. All

Ben Nederduytsche Grammatica.

1. All names as Goden, Gods, Engelen, Angels, Geesten, Spirits, are of the Masculine Gender; As also, Petrus, Peter, Paulus, Paul, Timmerman, Carpenter, VVercker, a Worker.

2. All names which belong unto women, are of the Foeminine Gender; as, Maria, Mary, Anna, Annis, Moeder, Mother, Suster, Sister, Nagyster, Semster, Breydster, Kniter: saving the vvord VVijf, which is of the Neuter Gender.

3. All Verbes Actives of the Infinitive Moode, vvhen they are made Substantives, and the Particle Het commeth before them, belong to the Neuter Gender; as, Het werken, The vvorking, Het loopen, The running, Het rusten, The resting, Het lijden, The suffering; herein the Netherdutches followe both the Greecke and the French in making of their Infinitives Substantives.

4. All Verball vvords which begin with ge, be, or ver, are of the Neuter Gender; as, Het gewerck, The Work, Het begrip, The apprehension, Het verhael, The rehearfall.

5. All Adjectives are of the Neuter Gender vvhen they are set for Substantives; as, Het rechts, The right, Het ronds, The round, Het gelijk, The like, &c.

6. All Diminutives are of the Neuter Gender; as, Het manneken, The little man, Het wijfsken, The little woman or vvife, Het boomken, The little tree, Het huysken, The little house or cottage; where note that all Diminutives end in ken.

Also vvords of Number, as, Het paar, The paire, Het dozijn, The dussen, Het twintighste, The tvventieth, Het hondertste, The hundreth, Het duysentste, The thousandth.

Finally, the names of Rivers are of the Foeminine Gender, as, De Mase, The Maze, De Iordaan, The Jordan, De Schelde, The Scheld, De Ysel, The Isel: Except the Rhijn, vvhich is of the Masculine Gender.

How to knowv Substantive vvords according to their Gender by their terminations.

1. All Nounes vvich end in heyt, are of the Foeminine Gender; as, VVijsheyt, Wifedome, Schoonheyt, Fairenesse or Beauty, Gort-

A Netherdutch Grammar.

heyt, Goodnesse; vvhere note that the termination heyt ends in English in nesse or tie.

2. Likevvise all Verball vvords vvhich end in inge, isse, and ye; as, De gevinge, The giving, De lijdinge, The suffering, De visscherije, The fisherie, De boovaerdye, The pride: all vvhich and many more, are of the Foeminine Gender, saving Gesuygenisse, vvhich is of the Neuter Gender.

3. Also all Verball vvords, vvhich in stead of heyt end in te; as, De sterckte, The strength, De groote, The great, De Dickte, The thick; In stead of Sterckheyt, Strongnesse, Grootheyt, Greatnesse, Dickheyt, Thicknesse.

4. Also the Latine & French vvords which end in ie or y; as, De Gratie, The Grace or Favour, De Blamatie, The Blame, The Executie, The Execution, De Harmonye, The Harmonie, De Valeye, The Valewe, are of the Foeminine Gender.

5. Denominatives, which end in dom; as, Het Bisdom, The Bishoprick, Het Heroghdom, The Dukedome, Het Pausdom, The Papacie, are of the Neuter Gender.

But Rijckdom, Riches, is Masculine, as also Dom, A Cathedrall Church.

6. Also vvords ending in ment; as, Het Testament, The Testament, Het Trafement, The entertainment, Het Present, The Present.

Unto the Neuter Gender belong the Denominatives, which end in schap; as, Het Landschap, The Countrie or territorie, Het Maeghschap, The Kindred: Except Blyschap, Joy or Bliss, Vriendschap, Friendship, which are of the Foeminine Gender.

Note, that when a Substantive is coupled with an other, they are of the Gender of the last vvord; Example, Koop-stadt, A Martowne, Mis-daedt, A mis-deed, Ongeneucht, Displeasure, and are of the Foeminine Gender, because stadt, daedt, and geneucht, are of the Foeminine Gender.

Nounes of the Masculine & Neuter Gender cast off, upon the end of a vvord; as, Man, Man, Boom, Tree, Bergh, Hill. But these Masculines keepe the upon the end; as, Name, Name, Neuse, Nose, Reuse, Gyant, Zone, Sonne.

Also

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Also these vvords of the Neuter Gender, retain e upon the end of a vvord; as Eynde, End, Giloue, Faith, Herte, Hart, Bedde, Bed. And thus much of the Genders of a Noun Substantive.

Of the difference of Adjectives according to their three Genders.

All Adjectives are distinguished into the Genders, vvvhich distinction vvee vvill set dovvne here by Example in stead of Rules.

The Singular Number makes a difference in our Adjectives, for commonly the Masculine Gender endeth in n, and the Fœminine in e, but the Neuter casts off both the n and the e, as you may see in this example.

Masc.	Fœm.	Neut.
Stercken ,	Stercke ,	Sterck , Stronge.
Heyligen ,	Heylige ,	Heyligh , Holy.
Hoogen ,	Hooge ,	Hoogh , High.
Goeden ,	Goede ,	Goedt , Good.
Schoonen ,	Schoone ,	Schoon , Faire.
Eenen ,	Eene ,	Een , One, or A.

But the usuall vvords of the Masculine Gender are these, Stercke, Heylige, Hooge, Goede, Schoone, Een.

Note; that albeit this difference of Genders are distinguished thus out of their owne nature: yet notwithstanding it is usuall both in speaking and vvriting to omit the n upon the end of Masculine vvords, and that for the fluencie of speech.

So that then the common Adjectives both of the Masculine and Fœminine Gender may take an e upon the end of their terminations, vvvhich e in the Neuter Gender is cast off.

There are also some vvords called Participles, vvvhich are not tyed to this rule, vvvhich vvithout change may be used in the three Genders; as, De loopende man, The running man, De loopende vrouwe, The running woman, Het loopende Dier, The running Beast. Also, De minnende man, The Loving man, De minnende vrouwe, The loving vvoman, Het minnende Dier, The loving Animall.

Note also, that the Particles De or Het, The, before Participles fall sweeter in the Neuter

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Gender vvith the e upon the end of a vvord; then vvithout one; As, Het minnende Dier, The loving Beast, and Is as gracefully spoken, as, Het minnend Dier. But againe, Een loopend VVildt, A running Deere, tals sweeter in the pronounciation, then if one should say, Een loopende VVildt: and in my opinion the e vvvere better omitted, vvhen the Particle Een goeth before: As in stead of Het groeyende boomken, to say, Een groeyend boomken, A grooving little tree.

Of the Species of Nounes.

There are two Species or Kinds of vvords. The first are Primitive or Originall vvords; the other Derivatives. The Primitives are formed of noe other vvords: but the Derivatives come from Steen, Stone, Yser, Yron, Kalck, Chalke, Zout, Salt, VVater, Water, being Primitives, their Derivatives are Steenachtigh, Stonie, Yzerachtigh, Yronish, Kalckachtigh, Chalkie, Zoutachtigh, Saltish, VVaterachtigh, Waterish. Also from these Primitives are formed the Infinitive of Verbes; as from Kalck, Chalke, Kalcken, To Chalke, Zout, Salt, Zouten, To Salt.

From these Nounes flowe foure kinds of vvords, as the names of Nations or People, Hereditaries, Denominatives, Operatives, and Diminutive words.

The names of people are 1, of Families; 2, of Countries; or 3, vvvhich signifie some Nation: als 1, Nassouwer, A Nassovian, Levijs, A Levit, Rubeniser. 2. Spartiaen, A Spartan, Corinther, A Corinthian, Epheser, An Ephesian. 3. Romeyn, A Romaine, Hebreer, An Hebrevv, Cananiser, A Cananite, vvvhich are descended from those Tribes or Families.

Note also, that from Levijs, Rubeniser, Iode, are derived Levijsche, Rubenijfsch, Ioodsche, vvvhich agree vvith our Derivatives English, Scottish, Irish, coming from England, Scotland, Ireland. Note also the denomination of the inhabitants of Cities, vvvhich end in er; as, Londener, A Londoner, Amsterdammer, An Amsterdammer, that is, One of London, or of Amsterdam.

Of Hariditarie vwords.

The Hariditarie words are such, as receive a Hariditarie name, from those words whereof they are derived; as, Konincklick, (Kingly) from Koninck, a King; Vaderlick, Fatherly, from Vader, a Father; Broederlick, Brotherly, from Broeder, a Brother; Eewigh, Eternall, from Eewe, an Age.

Observations upon Derivatives.

The Derivative words, which end in sche, betoken some Proprietie, People, Countrie, or Sect; as, Roomsche, Romish; Poolsche, Polish; Keysersche, Imperialists; Luytersche, Lutherians; Euangelische, Evangelicals; Wederdoopsche, Ana-baptistick; to these also may be added, Hemelsche, Heavenly; Aerdsche, Earthly, and come from their Primitives, Hemel, Heaven, Aerde, Earth.

The Derivatives also which end in ich, ryck, zaem, and baer, betoken commonly some propertie; as, Almachtigh, Allmighty; Barmhertich, Mercifull; Eewich, Eternall; Levendich, Lively; Vlytich, Speedie; Volck-ryck, Populous; Zin ryck, Rich-minded; Lydszaem, Tolerable; Raedszaem, Councelable; Vruchtbaer, Fruitfull.

The Derivative words, which end in ach, tigh, and lie, followe their Primitives; as, Waerachtigh, Truly, from Waer, True; Leugenchigh, Given to Lying, from Leugen, a Lie; Zoetachtich and Zuerachtich, Sweetish and Sowrish, from Sweete and Sowre. Vriendelick, Friendly; Vyandelick, Hostilly, or, as an Enemy; Zoetelick, Sweetly; Bitterlick, Bitterly; derived from Frend, Enemy, Sweete, and Bitter.

Of Denominative vwords.

Denominative words, which are Substancives end all in heyt, dom, and schap; as from Recht, Right, Waer, True, Ryck, Rich, Herzoghs, Duke, Blide, Blisse, Vriends, Friend, are derived Gerechtigheyt, Righteousnesse, Waerheyds, Veritie or Truth, Ryckdom, Richnesse, Herzogdom, Dukedom, Blisschap, Blisse, Vriendtschap, Friendship.

All Substantives derived from Verbals are called Verball words; as Lezingen, Reading, Loopinghen, Running, Bereydingen, Preparing, Getuygenisse, are Verbals derived from Lezen, to Read, Loopen, to Run, Bereyden, to Prepare, Getuygen, to Witnesse.

Also to these Verbals, belong Het Gelees, The Reading, Het Beloop, The Summe, Het Gezegh, The Saying, Het Verbael, The Remarkfall, and such like.

The difference between words derived from Nounes and Verbes, is this, that the one is derived from a Noune, and the other from a Verbe.

Of Diminutives.

The Diminutives are commonly knowne by words ending in ken; as, from Steen, a Stone, the Diminutive is Steenken, a small or a little Stone; Bom, Tree, Boomken, a little Tree; Bedde, a Bed, Beddeken, a small or a little Bed; But words which double their last letters in the Plurall Number of their Diminutives in eken; as in al, Gal, Gall, Bal, Ball, Galleken, Balleken.

il, Bril, Spectacle, Wil, Will, Brilleken, Little Spectacle, Willeken, Little Will.

ol, Tol, Top, Hol, Hole, Tolleken, A little Top, Holleken, A little Hole.

ul, Bul, Bull, Bulleken, A little Bull.

am, Lam, Lambe, Dam, Damme, Lammeken, A little Lambe, Dammeken, A little Damme.

em, Stem, Voyce, Stemmeken, A small Voyce.

im, Sim, Ape, Simmeken, A little Ape.

an, Man, Man, Pan, Pan, Manneken, A little Man, Panneken, A small Pan.

en, Pen, Penne, Penneken, A small Penne.

ond, Hond, Dogg, Hondeken, A little Dogg, Mond, Mouth, Mondeken, A little Mouth.

ck, Balck, Beame, Balcksken, A small Beame, Zack, Bagge, Zacksken, A little Bagge.

gge, Brugge, Bridge, Bruggeken, A small Bridge, Vlagge, Flagge, Vlaggeken, A little Flagge.

Those words which are changed in the Plurall Number, and diminished in their Plurals; as, Padt, Path, hath Padeken, A little Path, from Paden, Paths, Schip, Ship, hath Scheepken, A small Ship, from Schepen, Ships; also Kleedt, Garment, Kleedecken, A small Garment; Loof, Spangle, Loooverken, A small Spangle; Stadt, Towne, Stedecken, A little Towne.

Of Number.

Number in words, is either Singular, or Plurall.

The Singular is when wee speake of one thing; as, Mijn Vader, My Father, Het Huys, The house.

The Plurall Number is, when wee speake of two or many; as, Myne Voor-Vaders, My Fore-Fathers, De Huysen, The houses.

All Nounes end their Plurals, in s or n.

All single Syllables make their Plurals in n; Example, Vier, Fire, Vieren, Fires, Been, Bone, Beenen, Bones: Except Man, VVijf, Maet, and Kock, have s in their Plurals; As, Mans, Men, VVijfs, Wives, Maets, Mates, Kocks, Cookes.

All Nounes ending in e, forme their Plurals in n; as, Het Eynde, The End, De Eynden, The Ends.

All Nounes, which end in i, l, f, n, and r, end their Plurals in s or n; as for example, De Tafel, The Table, De Tafels, or Tafelen, The Tables, Het VVijf, The Wife, De VVijfs, or VVijven, The Wives, De Keucken, The Chickin, De Keuckens or Keuckenens, The Chickins, Meester, Master, Meesters or Meesteren, Masters; Except their Diminutives.

All Denominatives which end in heyt in the

Also the names of Mettals; as, Goudt, Gold, Silver, Silver, Loot, Lead, Tin, Tinne, Staal, Steele, &c.

Likewise the names of Fruits or Graine; as, Rogge, Rye, Gerst, Barlie, Haver, Oates, Linden, Linnen, Vlas, Flaxe, Hysop, Hyfope, Peper, Pepper, Gras, Grasse, Hoy, Hay, Riet, Reede, and Stroo, Strawe.

Also the names of Liquid things; as, Water, Water, Melck, Milke, Honich, Hony, Botter, Butter, Olie, Oyle, Wijn, Wine, Bier, Beere, Azijn, Vineger, and Peck, Pitch.

There are also some, which want the Singular, and are of the Plurall: As, Hersenen, Brains, Ouders, Elders, Voor-ouders, Fathers, Lieden ofte Luyden, They, or Men, De Lenten, Lent, De Staten, The States, Ver-senen, Heeles, &c.

Of the Figure of Nounes.

In words there are two Figures to be considered, that is, Simple and Compound.

A Simple, or a Single is that, which is not compounded of two or more words: as, Lief, Love, Moedt, Minde, Rijk, Rich, Zaligh, Blessed.

But your double words, are those which are compounded of two or more vords: as, Groot-moedigh, Magnanimous, Godt-zaligh, Godly, Lief-hebbir, A Lover, On-ervaren, Un-experienced, On-verwinnelick, Invincible. Here in vee followe the Grecian Tongues, vvvhich is full of vvords compounded.

These Particles or Prepositions, come alvvayes before Compound words; As, Aen, Af, Bi, By, Door, Ge, Her, In, Me, Mede, Mif, Na, Of, Om, On, Ont, Op, Ram, Tue, Ver,

Onver, Onvoor, Uyt, Wan; vvwhereof I vvill give you one or two of each of them: as, Aen-doen, To Put on, Af-leggen, To Lay off, Bekennen, To Acknovvledge, By-brengen, To Bring to, Door-zien, To See through, Gegeven, Given, Her-doen, To Doe againe, In-zien, To Look in, Me-zien, To Look with, Mede-gezelle, A Fellow-companion, Mn-troost, Dis-comford, Mistrouwe, Mistrust, Nadragen, To Carrie after, Na-volgen, To Follow after, Offenceren, To Offend, Omdelven, To Delve about, Omdraeyen, To Turne about, Onbequaem, Unmeet, Ongehoorsaem, Dis-obedient, Onthouden, To With-hold, Op-leggen, To Impose, Op-packen, To Pack up, Tot-bebooren, To Belong unto, Verbeuren, To Forfeit, Verbieden, To Forbid, Onverzien, Unawares, Onvoorzieghigh, Carelesse, or Improvident, Wt-doen, To Doe out, Wanhope, Dispaire, or Dis-trust, and many more.

These Compounds which end in heyt, baer, inge, schap, achtich, lick, lijckheyt, zaem, zaemheyt, dom, loos, ich, icheydt, sel, &c: Example; as, Zienelickheyt, Visibilitie, Wonderbaer, Wonderfull, Voorzieninge, Providence, Vrient-schap, Friendship, Waerachtich, Truely, Grouwelick, Abhominable, Gelijckheyt, Equalitie, Gehoorzaem, Obedient, Gehoorzaemheyt, Obedience, Rijckdom, Riches, Godsloos, Ungodly, or Godlesse, Voorfichigh, Provident, Voorfichighheyt, Providence, Bereydsel, Preparation, and diverse more which are thus compounded.

There are also words compounded of two Substantives, as of molen, a mill, and water, is compounded water-molen, a water-mill; of regen, raine, and water, is compounded regen-water, raine-water.

In compounded words for the smooother Pronounciation, there are some letters left out; as, Burge-meesters, for Burgeren-meesters, Boroughmaisters or Majours; Blijfschap, in stead of Blijdschap, Joy; Ionck-vrouw, and Iosfrouw, for longe-vrouwe, A young Gentlewoman; Ioncker, for longen-heir, A young Gentle-man.

It hapneth also in Compounds, that the first word is of the second Case and Declension; ſion; as, Schaeps-vel, Of a Sheep-skin, Oor-loghs-man, A man of Warre, Krijghs-macht, Of Militarie power.

Alſo words compounded of the Fœminine Gender; as, Herten-leet, Hearts-greefe, Hoeren-loon, Whores-hire.

There are Compound Adjectives words, where-in the Nether-dutches imitate the Greeke; as, Wel-doen, To Doe well, Zoet-vloeyensheydt, Sweet-fluencie, Heel-facht, Very-Soft, or Supple, Nieuw-waffende, Newly-growing, Wel-waffende, Well-growing, Al-machtigh, Al-mightie, Al-mogende, Omnipotent; & diſſerſe other compoſed with Gods; as, Gods-betamende, Beſeeming God, Godt-vreeſende, Fearing God, Godt-eerende, Honouring God, and diſſerſe others.

Of the Caſes of Nounes.

A Caſe is the ſpeciall termination of a Noun.

There be ſixe Caſes in both Numbers: The Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accuſative, Vocative, and Ablative, which in Netherdutch be called, 1. Noemer, 2. Barer, 3. Ge-ver, 4. Aenklager, 5. Roeper, and 6. Af-nemer.

The Nominative giveth the name to Nounes without variation; as, De man, The man, De vrouwe, The woman, Het veldt, The field, for the Singular; and, De mans, The men, De vrouwen, The women, De velden, The fields, for the Plurall.

The Genitive Caſe is commonly knowne by this token, Des, Der, or ſit Van den, Of, or Of the; as, Des mans, Of, or Of the man, Der vrouwe, Of, or Of the woman, Des veldts, Of, or Of the fields, in the Singular Number; and, Der mannen, Of the men, Der vrouwen, Of the women, Der velden, Of the fields, in the Plurall Number.

The Dative Caſe is knowne by this token, Den, Der, or De, To, or To the: or by this Prepoſition, Aen, Aen den, or Aen de.

The Accuſative Caſe is like the Nominative Caſe.

The Vocative Caſe is knowne by this token ô; as, ô Menſch, ô Man.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

as, Hy is derr sake toe-gedaen, He is affected to the cause: Op dat ick derr VVaerheydt getuygenisse gave, That I might give witnesse to the Truth, John 18. VVy zijn derr VVet gestorven, We are dead to the Lawe, Rom. 6.

Observe, that many Feminine words may fitly be used in the Plurall Number, in stead of the Singular; as, Der aerden, Of the earth, Der vrouwen, Of the woman; in place of Der aerde, Der vrouwe. Hence also comes these speeches, Onser Vrouwen Kerck, Our Ladies Church, Eener vrouwen man, The husband of one wife, &c.

Of some Irregulars in the Feminine Gender.

Through custome and against order they use to say in the Genitive Case in stead of der werelt, des werelts, of the world. So likewise these words, as, vrouwe, dochter, moeder, suster, nicht, &c. are declined in the Genitive Case, vrouws, dochters, moeders, susters, nichts, &c. but notwithstanding they keepe their Particles or Adjectives unalterable: as for example: Myne moeder, My mother, being declined in the Genitive, maketh Mijne moeders, Of my mothers: but here in this Case one must not say, Mijner moeder, neither Mijnes moeders, but one may well say, Mijner moeder, without an s. Also, Eene belesde dochter, A civill maide, is in the Genitive, Eene belesde dochters, or, Een belesde dochter, Of a civill maide.

Of the declension of Adjectives.

In the declining of Adjectives, the change falleth upon the end vvith e, n, or r. The declension of the Masculine Gender is thus:

Eenvoudt, Singular.

Nom.	{ De goede, The good. (good.
Gen.	{ Des goeden, or, van de goede, Of the good.
Dat.	{ Den goeden, or, aen den goeden, To the good.

Gen.	{ Der goede, or, van de goede, Of the good.
Dat.	{ Derr goede, or, aen de goede, To the good.
Abla.	{ Van de goede, From the good.

The Plurall number is like that of the Masculine Gender.

The Neuter Gender.

Nom.	{ Sing. Het goet, The good. (good.
Gen.	{ Des goeden, or, van het goet, Of the good.
Dat.	{ Den goeden, or, aen het goet, To the good.
Abla.	{ Van het goet, From the good.

The Plurall is like the Masculine.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

It seemeth also, that the Plurall Number of the Neuter Gender, is expressed in the Netherdutch after the Latine manner; as, Het goede, The good, Het Gheestelike, The Spirituall, Het Wereldelike, The Worldlie.

Observations upon the Nominative Case of the Plurall Number.

The Learned are of opinion, that the Adjectives before Goden or rationall Creatures are to be sett, and ought to end in the Plurall Number in n; as in, De dooden, The Dead, De levenden, The living, De Heyligen, The Saints, De Edelen, The Nobles. The reason they give is a necessarie difference, for if one should say: De doode, De levende, De oude, it is uncertaine whether one speaks of one person, or of many.

An observation upon the Genitive Case Plurall.

Adjectives which end in the Nominative Case in e; as, De vrome, The honest, De doode, The dead, De Edle, The Noble, De Heylige, The Saint, end with n in the Genitive Case Plurall; Example: Der vromen, Of the honest, Der dooden, Of the dead, Der Edelen, Of the Nobles, Der Heyligen, Of the Saints.

The necessity of the difference touching this Declension; is to avoyd diverse doubts: for when wee say: De volstandigheyt des Heyligen, The perseverance of the Saint, it is spoken but of one man; and when wee say: De volstandigheyt der Heylige, it is spoken of a woman. Againe, if ye say, De volstandigheyt der Heyligen, The perseverance of the Saints, it is spoken of many Saints: If one saith, Der Heylige volstandigheyt, Of a Saints perseverance, then wee speake onely of perseverance: when one saith, Der Heyliger volstandigheyt, The perseverance of a Saint, that is understood of the perseverance of one Saint; but if you say: Der Heyligen volstandigheyt, that is all one, as if you had said: De volstandigheyt der Heyligen, The perseverance of the Saints, and is spoken of many. By these examples you may clearely discern, the necessity of the difference in the Plurall Number.

All Nounes compared which end in r, make often an usefull difference, being expressed in the Genitive Case; as, Der heyliger menschen behoudinge, The preservation of holy men; which sheweth a more kinde of elegance, then if one should say: De behoudinge der heyliger menschen. Likewise these manner of speeches are esteemed passable; as, Vromer helden daden, The deeds of Heroick worthies, Machtiger lieden rijkdommen, The richnesse of mighty men.

An Observation upon the Dative Case of Adjectives.

In the Dative Case and Plurall Number, all Adjectives end in n; as, Denn goeden, To the good, Denn geloovigen, To the Faithfull.

Note, that Den goeden, The good, Den vromen, The honest, Den geloovigen, The Faithfull, is spoken of one person; but, Denn goeden, Denn vromen, Denn geloovigen, &c. is spoken of many persons.

The Accusative Case is like the Plurall of the Nominative; as, De goede, De vrome, De geloovige, &c.

Of the Ablative Case.

In the Ablative Case Plurall, the n in the particle den is cast off; For if one should say: Van den Vaderen, Van den Velden, Van den menschen, is harsh, and maketh noe difference: But if wee say: Van de Vaderen, From the Fathers, Van de Velden, From the Fields, Van de menschen, From the men; For the manner of these speeches, are sufficiently expressed by this particle Van, From.

Of the Declension of some Compound words.

In Compound words, the change hapneth onely in the last word; as, Het Neder-landt, The Nether-land, hath in the Genitive, Des Neder-lands, Of the Nether-lands: De Groot-vader, The Grand-father, hath, Des Groot-vaders, Of the Grand-fathers; herein they imitate the High-dutches. And thus much of the affections of a Noun.

Of a

PRONOUNE.

A Pronoun is a part of Speech, much like a Noun, which is used in Shewing, Rehearsing, or Asking.

The Netherdutch Pronounes are these: Ick, Du, or Ghy, Hy, Zy, or Ze, Die, Dze, Wie, Welcke, Mijn, Dijn, Onze, Vw', Gem, Zelf.

The Accidents or Division of Pronounes are these:

Note, that Pronounes are never found without Verbes Active, or Passives, and the Verbes goe seldome alone without Pronounes, and therefore it should not seeme strange to call them the Active members or particles of Verbes, by reason of their inseparable affinity.

Of their Gender.

All Pronounes belong to three Genders, and are used in all Genders without any change upon the end of words; as, Ick, I, Ghy, Thou, Sy-luy, or Sy-lieden, They, Wy-lieden, Wee, &c.

But those which suffer any change upon their terminations, you shall finde their differences in the Genders mentioned before.

Of the

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Of the Number.

The Number of the Pronounes are two :

The Singular is, Ick, I, Du, or Ghy, Thou, Hy, He.

The Plurall is, Wy, Wee, Ghy-luy, or, Ghy-lieden, Yee, Sy, or, Sy-lieden, They.

Of the Persons.

There are three Persons :

The first Person is which speaketh ; as , Ick, I.

The second Person is to whome one speaketh ; as , Du or Ghy, Thou.

The third Person is of whome one speaketh ; as , Hy, He.

Of the Species.

There are two kinds of Pronounes, to wit, Primitives, and Derivatives.

The Primitives ; as , Ick, I, Ghy, Thou, Hy, He, Sy, or, Sy-lieden, They, Wie, Who, Welcke, Which, &c.

The Derivatives ; as , Mijn, Mine, Dijn, Thine, Vw', Your, Dese, This, Sijn, His, &c. These come from the Primitives.

Of the Figure.

The Pronounes are either Simple ; as, Ick, I, Du, Thou, Hy, He : or Compound ; as , Ick-zelve, I my-selfe, Die-zelve, or Hy-zelve, He him-selfe, Sy-selven, They themselves, Die-gene, This same, Dat-gene, That same, Het-gene, The same, De-welcke, or die-welcke, The which, &c.

Of the Qualitie.

The Qualitie of Pronounes are of foure severall sorts, namely , Demonstrative, Possessive, Relative, and Interrogative.

The Demonstratives are, Ick, I, Ghy, Thou, Hy, He, Die, or Dese, This.

The Possessives betoken some propriety , and are these ; Mijn, Mine, Dijn, Thine, Sijn, Hissen, Ons, Ours, Vw', Yours.

The Relative Pronounes are those which have relation to some thing , which was spoken off before ; as , Die, He, Wie, Who,

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Welcke, Which. These Relatives fall in these and such like speeches ; as , Hy heeft nu ghe-waacht, die altijd pleight te slapen, He hath now watched ; who had wont always to sleep. Againe: Hy wiens dienst ick noode gebruyckte, He whose service I had need off. Vw' broeder, dienghy meest bemint, Your brother, whome you love best. Dat scherp swaerdt, welcke ick ontkomen ben, That sharpe sword, which I have escaped. Het zijn quaeds-aerdige lieden, dewelcke onversoenelick zijn, Those are ill-natured people, the which are unreconcilable ; And in these Phrases you see the use of the Relatives.

The Interrogative Pronounes are those, whereby one asketh a question ; as , VVie ? Who ? Welcke ? Which ? VVhat ? What ? Exemple ; VVie is dat ? Who is that ? VVelcke is het beste ? Which is the best ? VVat is een mensch ? What is a man ?

Of the Declension.

The Pronounes, which in declining differ some-thing from the common rule, are these ; Ick, I, Ghy, Thou, Hy or Die, He, Dat, That, VVelck, Which, Mijn, Mine, Dijn, Thine, Ons or Onse, Our or Ours, Vw', or Gene, Yours, VVie, Who, Self, Selfe.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

We make Heurr with a double r, to distinguish the Singular number from the Plurall.

And by this diversitie of Pronounes, we very fitly distinguish the Gender of words, in the manner of speeches; as, Hare vaders, Their fathers, being spoken of the Masculine, and Heure vaders, of the feminine Gender. De schoonheydt is in heure deucht, The beautie is in her vertue, spoken of a woman; De sterckte sijner hope, The strength of his hope, spoken of a man.

The Meervoudt, or Plurall, is as above.

Note, That the word Dat, doth not alter from the Nominative Case into the Genitive, but by the Preposition Van, Of: For we say, Dat Diers aert, The nature of that Beast, Dat landts lengte, The lenght of that land, Dat Waters onstuymigheyt, The raging of that water, in which speeches Dat, the Genitive are expressed.

Of the Adjective Self.

Ick Selve, I my Selfe, Ons Selve, Our Selves, V-selve, Your Selfe, Hem-selve, Himselfe, Haer ofte Hun-selve, Them-selves, or Their-selves.

Also, Dit Selve, This Same, Dat Selve, That Same, Dese Selve, These Same, Die Selve, Those Same, all which may be declined through the Cases.

Masc. De Selve Man, The Same man.
Foem. De Selve vrouwe, The Same woman.
Neut. Het Selve Dier, The Same Beast.

Note, that the word Self nameth ever more one Person; as, Ick hebbe het Self gedaen, I have done it my Selfe, Het is mijnes Selfs werck, It is my owne worke, Ick en hebbe mijn Selven niet kunnen helpen, I could not helpe my Selfe.

And thus being compounded with De, or Den, it may be declined through the Cases; as, De-welcke, Den welcken, Het welck, The which.

The Pronounes also become Interrogatives, that is, Vragende; As, Wie is dat? Who is that? Welcke is de best? Which is the best? Wat is een mensch? What is a man? &c.

Note, that Welck, Which, hath in the Genitive Case Welcken, and Welcks, Of Which: Ander, Other, hath Anders, and Anderten, Of Others; Yeder, Each, hath Yeders, and Yederen, Of Each: Yegelick, Every one, hath Yegelicks, and Yegelicken, Of Every one: Elck, Each, hath Elcks, and Elcken, Of Each; and these have their severall uses: for wee say, Welcks goederen, Of Which mans goods, and not, Welcks mans goederen, but very fitly, Welcken mans goederen, Of Which mans goods. A VERBE is a part of Speech, which is declinable, and signifieth to Doe, to Suffer, or, to Be: As, Ich beminne, I Love, Ich worde bemint, I am Loved, Het Regens, It Raineth.

Verbes

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Verbes are considered Personally, or Impersonally, Active, Passive, or Neuter, and are declined by Persons; as, First, Second, and Third, in both Numbers, which are Singular, and Plurall: By their Conjugations, namely, the First, Second, Third, and Fourth: By their Moodes, which are Indicative, Imperative, Optative, Conjunctive, and Infinitive: By their Tenses or Times wherein Verbes are spoken; and these are, the Present Tense, the Præter-imperfect, the Præter-perfect, the Præter-pluperfect, and the Future Tense.

Verbes Actives are Personall, or Impersonall.

A Verbe Personall is either Active or Passive, that is, Werckende, ofte Lijdende, and is accompanied with a Person, Persons, or Pronouns; As, Ick Minne, I Love, Ghy ofte du Mint, Thou Lovest, Hy Mint, He Loveth: And in the Plurall Number; Wy Minnen, We Love, Ghy, ofte Ghy-lieden Mint, Yee, or You Love, Sy, ofte Sy lieden Minnen, They Love.

A Verbe Impersonall is that, which is done without the helpe of man, and is knowne by this Particle Het, It; As, Het Regent, It Raineth, Het Vriest, It Freezeth, Het Waeyt, It Blowes.

After the Impersonall Verbes may followe a Pronoun; As, Het Rouwet my, It Repenteth me, Het Lust u, It Delighteth you, Het Was bem leet, It Was a greefe to him.

Also, these Impersonals may be expressed by Men; As, Men Mint, One Loves, Men Seyt, One Sayes, Het wordt Geseyd, It is Said, Het gerucht Galt, It is Reporteth, Het wordt Geloof, It is Beleeveeth.

There are also two Verbes, which are, Wesen, Zijn, ofte Worden, To Be, which are called Verbes Substantives.

There are likewise auxiliar Verbes, which are, Hebben, To Have, Wesen, Zijn, ofte Worden, To Be, without the helpe of which the differences of times cannot be distinguished.

Of the kinde of Verbes.

There are three kinde of Verbes, as Active, called Werckende, Passive, Lijdende, and Neuter, Geenerleye Werck-woorden.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

A Verbe Active betokeneth some action, and hath a Pronoun to accompanie it, of that which one doth; As, Ick Beninne mijn Vaderlant, I Love my native Countrey; Hy Plougt hei lands, He Ploweth the land, De vyanden hebben hei al Verdorven, The enemies have Destroyed it all.

Of Verbes Passive.

The Passive Verbes are alwayes expressed with a Verbe Substantive; As, Ick Worde geslagen, I Am beaten; Ick Wierdt onderwelen, I Am instructed; so that the Passive Verbes have these vvordes alwayes to accompanie them; as, Worden, Werden, ofte Wierdt, Am, or Be.

Of the Verbes of the Neuter kinde.

The Verbes which neither betoken action nor suffering, are improperly called Neutrals: As, Ick Ben, ofte Worde, I Am, Ick Blink, I Glisten, Ick Bloey, I Floovrish, Ick Schijne, I Shine, &c. As also these Verbes, Staen, To Stand, Bestaen, To Consist, Opstaen, To Arise.

To this kinde also belong the Inchoatives; As, Ick worde waarm, I Am vvaime, Ick vvorde gevvaer, I Have taken notice.

The Impersonall Active Verbes, followve the vvord Men, Men or One; As, Men vvreckt, One Workes, Men seyt, Men Say.

Impersonals of the Passive voice, followve the vvords Daer and vvort; As, Daer vvort gevvrocht, There is Wrought, Daer vvort geseyt, There is Said, &c.

Impersonals of the Neuter Gender, followve the Particle Het; As, Het dondert, It Thundreth, Het gebeurt, It Hapneth, &c.

Of Number.

Number is tyvofold, The Singular and Plurall Number, as is above said.

Of the Persons vvce have spoken before.

Of the Moodes and Conjugations.

Verbes Actives are Declined vvith five Moodes, or Manners; 1. The Indicative Mood, 2. The Imperative, 3. The Optative, 4. The Subjunctive, 5. The Infinitive.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

The Indicative Moode, or Toonende wijsse, is thus expressed, Hy leert sijne lesse, He learneth his lesson.

The Imperative Moode, or, Gebiedende wijsse, is, Leer du dijne lesse, Learn thou thy lesson.

The Optative Moode, or, Verscbende wijsse, is, Och dat ick leerde, Oh that I might learne.

The Subjunctive Moode hath all-ways these words, Op dat, Om dat, Indien dat, &c. As, Op dat ick leere, To the end I learne, Op dat ick liepe, That I may run, Om dat ick ware, Because I were, Indien ick wilde, In case I fall, &c.

The Infinitive Moode, nominateth noe certaine Person, nor Number, nor Time, but is knowne by this signe (To); As, Minnen, To Love, Leeren, To Learne, Dragen, To Carry, &c.

Of the Tenses, or Times, wherein a Verbe is spoken.

There are five Tenses belonging to Verbs.

1. The Present Tense speaketh of the time that now is; as, Ick Minne, I Love, or, Doe love.

2. The Præter-imperfect Tense speaketh of the time not perfectly past; as, Ick minde, I Loved, or Did love.

3. The Præter-perfect Tense speaketh of the time perfectly past; as, Ick hebbe gemint, I have loved.

4. The Præter-pluperfect Tense speaketh of the time more then perfectly past; as, Ick hadde gemint, I had loved.

5. The Future Tense speaketh of the time to come; as, Ick sal minnen, I shall or will love.

Of the CONJUGATIONS.

THE Declension of Verbes for distinction sake, are called Conjugations, which are varied through Moodes, Tenses, and Persons.

There are in Netherdutch five Conjugations.

Of the first Conjugation. *

When in the first Conjugation of Verbes

A Netherdutch Grammar.

ye take en from the end of the Infinitive, and add de in the place therof, ye forme then the Præter-imperfect: As for example, Deelen, To Part, or to Deale, is the Infinitive Moode; take away en from the end of it, and put de unto it, then ye have the Præter-imperfect tense, and the first Person. Again: When ye put t or d to deel, then it is deelt, add ge before it, which syllable is an addition to the Præter-perfect tense, then it is gedeelt, parted, or divided; and this expresseth the Præter-perfect tense to the full, as, Ick hebbe gedeelt, I have parted or dealed. To this first Conjugation belong these Verbes, Arzen, To Baite, Bouwen, To Build, Hongeren, To Hunger, Hooren, To Heare, &c.

Of the second Conjugation.

The second Conjugation of Verbes is, when ye take from the Infinitive Moode en from the end of it, and in stead thereof put te unto it, in so doing you forme the Præter-imperfect tense: As for example; If you take away from Braecken, To Belch, en, then it is Braeck; put to the end of it te, so is it Braeckte, and the you have the Præter-imperfect tense of the Verbe. And if to braeck you put a t, then is it braecte, and adding the syllable ge before it, so is it gebraecte, belched, and ye have the Præter-perfect tense of the Verbe, as, Ick hebbe gebraecte, I have belched. To this declension belong these Verbes, Backen, To Bake, Blusschen, To Quench, Kampen, To Fight, Kloppen, To Knock.

Of the third Conjugation.

In the third Conjugation of Verbes you take away the last letter n from the Infinitive Moode, and in the place of n put de to it, then you have two severall words, which expresse the Præter-imperfect tense, as, Achten, To Esteeme, or Account, you have then the Præter-imperfect tense, Achte, and Achtede, Esteemed, or Accounted. Again: If ye take from the Infinitive Moode en, & put Ge unto it, then ye forme the Præter-perfect tense: as, Gracht, Esteemed, Gearbeydt, Laboured, Gegroet, Greeted, Gehoort, Heard.

Of the

Of the fourth Conjugation.

All Verbes of the fourth Conjugation have in the first syllable a double ij; as, in Bijten, To Bite, Blijcken, To Shine, Blyven, To Stay; take away en from the end of these Verbes, and in the place of the double ij put te, then ye have the Præter-imperfect tense; as, Belt, Black, Blef; if then you put en to the end of the Præter-imperfect tense, and Ge before, then you have formed the Præter-perfect tense; as, Gebeten, Bitten, Giblecken, Shone, or Shined, Gebleven, Stayed.

Of the fifth Conjugation.

Among the Verbes of the fifth Conjugation, which end the Præter-perfect tense in en; as, Ick bederve, I spoile, being the Present tense, in the Præter-perfect tense, hath, Ick hebbe bedorven, I have spoiled. In like manner, Bidde, Pray, hath Gebeden, Prayed; Bevele, Command, hath, Bevolen, Commanded. These Verbes change also their Vowels in the Præter-imperfect tense; as, Ick bederve, I spoile, hath in the Præter-imperfect tense, Ick bedorf, I spoiled, or did spoile; Ick bedrige, I deceive, hath, Ick bedroogh, I deceived, or did deceive; Ick bidde, I pray, hath, Ick bad, I prayed, or did pray; Ick bevele, I command, hath, Ick beval, I commanded, or did command.

From the Infinitive moode by casting off n, you forme the first Person, and Present tense of the Indicative Moode; as, from Eeren, To Honour, Dancken, To Thank, Achten, To Esteeme, Bijten, To Bite, you have the Present tense; Ick Eere, I Honour, Ick Dancke, I Thanke, Ick achte, I Esteeme, Ick Bijte, I Bite, &c.

The Subjunctive Moode is like the Indicative, and is distinguished by these signes, Wanneer, When; als, Wanneer ick bemint worde, When I am loved, Als ick bemint was, When I was loved, Wanneer ick hebbe bemint gheweest, When I have been loved; and so through all the Tenses and Persons.

The Optative Moode is also like the Indicative, and is knowne by these signes, Gods geve, God grant, Och of, Oh if, Ick bidde Gods, I pray God, &c. as, Gods geve dat ick beminds worde, God grant that I be loved, Och of ick ware bemint, Oh if I were beloved, Ick bidde Gods dat ick hebbe bemint gheweest, I pray God that I have been loved, Wanneer ick ſal beminds worden, When I shall or will be loved, and so through all the Tenses and Persons.

Or other-wise after the Potentiall Moode, ofte Mogende wijs; as, Ick mach ofte kan bemint worden, I may or can be loved, Ick mochte ofte konde bemint worden, I might or could be loved, Ick ſoude bemint geweest hebben, I should be loved, or, I should have been beloved, &c. and so through all the Tenses and Persons.

The Infinitive Moode, the Present and Præter-imperfect tenses

Bemint te worden, zijn, ofte weſen, To be Beloved.

The Præter-perfect tense, and Præter-pluperfect tense.

Hebben ofte hadden Bemint geweest, To have or had been Loved.

The Participle of the Present tense.

Zijnde ofte weſende Bemint, Being Beloved.

The Participle of the Præter-perfect, and the Præter-pluperfect tenses.

Bemint, ofte Geleert, Loved, or Taught.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Note, that the Participles of the Præter-perfect and Præter-pluperfect tenses are compounded with these Particles ge, be, and ver; As, Ik hebbe beschreven, I have described, Ik hebbe besproken, I have bespoken, Ik hebbe geschreven, I have written, Ik hebbe gekoren, I have chosen, Ik hebbe verloren, I have lost: And so of many more, which are thus compounded.

Of Impersonall Verbes.

Impersonall Verbes Active are formed of the third person, if ye put this Particle Het before it, and may be declined through the Tenses; as, Het behaecht, It pleaseth, Het behaegde, It pleased, or did please, Het heeft behaecht, It hath pleased, Het hadde behaecht, It had pleased, Het sal behagen, It shall or will please, Laet het u behagen, Let it please you, Het mach u behagen, It may please you, Het mochte, konde, ofte soude u behagen, It might, could, or should please you.

Het lust ofte vermaecht, It delighteth, Het lustede, It delighted, or did delight, Het heeft gelust, It hath delighted, Het hadde gelust, It had delighted, Het sal gelusten, It shall or will delight, Het mach lusten, It may delight, Het mochte, konde, ofte soude gelusten, It might, could, or should delight.

Het betaemt niet, It becometh not, Het betaemde niet, It became not, Het en heeft niet betaemt, It hath not become, Het en hadde niet betaemt, It had not become, Het sal niet betamen, It shall or will not become, Het mochte, konde, ofte soude niet betamen, It might, would, or should not become.

Het behoort, It ought, or, It belongeth, Het behoort niet, It ought not, or, It doth not belong, &c.

Het schijnt, It beseemeth, Het schijnt niet, It beseemeth not, &c.

Het blijkt, It appeareth, Het blijkt niet, It appeareth not, &c.

Impersonall Verbes of the Passive voice.

Het is bequaem, It is meete, or decent, Het was bequaem, It was meete, or decent, Het heeft bequaem geweest, It hath beene meete, or decent, Het hadde bequaem geweest, It had beene meete, or decent, Het sal bequaem zijn, It shall or will be meete, or decent, Het mochte ofte soude bequaem zijn, It might or should be meete or decent.

Het is noodigh, It is needfull, Het is behoorlick, It is requisite, Het wort geseys, It is said, Het geruchte gaet, It is noised, or reported, &c.

And in the Negative voice, Het is niet noodigh, It is not needfull, Het is niet behoorlick, It is not requisite, or convenient, &c. And so through all the tenses of the third person.

There are other Impersonals, which have an Acculative Case after the Impersonall Verbe; As, Het verdrijs my, It greeveth mee, Het walght my, It loatheth mee, Het jammert my, It pittieth mee: and so through all tenses and third persons.

There be other Impersonals, which are indefinitely expressed by this word Men, that is, Men, or One; as, Men seght, Men report, Men hoort, One heares, &c.

Of the Participles.

The Participles aswell of the Active as of the Passive voice, may borrowe of a Noun the Particles and Cases, which may be declined through the Cases in this manner. And first of the Participle of the Present tense.

Nom.	{ Een beminnende vader, A loving father.
Gen.	{ Van eene ofte eenes beminnende moeder. Of a loving mother.
Dat.	{ Aen, ofte tot een beminnende broeder, To a loving brother.
Voc.	{ O beminnende Vader! O loving father!
Abla.	{ Van, by, ofte door een beminnende suster, From, by, or through a loving sister.

Of the Participle of the Præter-perfect, and Præter-pluperfect tenses.

Nom.	{ Een beminde vader, A beloved father.
Gen.	{ Van eene beminde moeder, Of a beloved mother.
Dat.	{ Aen, ofte tot een beminde broeder, To a beloved brother.
Voc.	{ O beminde huysvrouwe! O beloved wife!
Abla.	{ Van een beminde suster, From a beloved sister.

The

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

The Particles De, Den, and Het, (The) may be declined through the Cases; as, De beminde Meester. The beloved Master, &c. and so through the Cases as also the Participles of the Present tense; De minnende man, The loving man, &c. And thus much of the four declinable parts of Speech.

Of an ADVERBE, called in Netherlands, Een Help-woord.

AN Adverbe is a part of Speech indeclinable, added to words to declare their signification; As, Hy quam spoedelick, He came speedely, Hy was strengelick gestraft, He was severely punished, Hy was nauwelijcx eerlick, He was scarcely honest, &c.

Adverbs are of diverse significations.

Some are of time present; As, Huyden, Heden, ofte, van dage, To day, Nu, Now, Tegenwoordigh, At this present, Datelick, Stracx, ofte Terstont, Immediately, Presently, By and by, or Anon, Oyt, ofte Immermeer, Ever, Noyt, ofte Nimmermeer, Never.

Of a

Of a
P R E P O S I T I O N .

A P R E P O S I T I O N is a part of Speech which most commonly is set before other parts, either in Apposition, or in Composition. In Apposition; As, Aen mijn Vader, To my father, Tot Rotterdam, At Rotterdam. Or in Composition: As, Ongeleert, Unlearned, Onbeschaemt, Impudent. And these following; As,

Aen, Na, ofte Tot, To, Unto, or At; In, or Into, By, ofte Door, By, or Through, Totwaerts, Towards, Voor, Before, Voor dat, Before that, Eer, Ere, Eer dat, Ere that, Eer dan, Ere then.

Om, ofte Omtrent, About, Ront-om, Round about, Tegen, Against, Op dese zijde, On this side, Gins, ofte op die zijde, Beyond, or on that side, Binnen, Within, Buyten, Without.

Tusschen, Betweene, or Betwixt, Boven, Above, Beneden, Beneath.

Benevens, ofte Neffens, Besides, or Moreover, By, Na-by, ofte Dicht by, Nigh, Neere, or hard by, Om, For, Van wegen, In behalfe, Achter, After, or, Behinde, Na dat, According to.

Tot dat, Untill, or Till that, Van, Of Van, From, or Fro, Met, ofte Mede, With, Sonder, Without, Op, Up, or Upon, Onder, Under, &c.

Note, that among the Netherdutch Ad-verbs are comprehended the Latine Conjunctions, Præpositions, and Interjections, because there is but a little difference in the use of them. For the further declaration of these indeclinable parts of Speech, I will propound these two examples: As,

Tot eenen mensch, To a man. By den rechten wegh, By the right way. Door de stadt, Through the towne. Voor den goeden tijt, Before the good time. Tegen eenen quaden vyant, Against an ill enemy. Hy komt sijnen vader tegen, He comes to meete his father. Nevens den steylen bergh, Next to the steepe mountain. Boven den booghen Hemel, Above the high Heavens. Ten tijde, In the time. Ten srijde gaen, To goe to battell. Ten rade, To Counsell. Ten dage, In the day. Ten derden dage, On the third day. Ten dienste, At the service. Ten monde, To mouth. Ten rooie, To shewe. Ten roove gaen, To goe to spoile. Ten wille zijn, To be at will.

These Præpositions are of the Neuter Gender, and make some change; As,

By den huys, By, or Neere the house. In den Hove, In the Court. Tot den bloede, To the blood. Van den velde, From the field. Na den gebode, According to command. Langhs den velde, Along the field. Te lande, On land, or, By land. Aen den Kruyce, On the Crosse. Te schepe, ofte te scheep, A ship-board, or by shipping. Van ganschen gemoede, With the whole minde. Ten goeden eynde, To a good end. Ten vyere, To fire. Te water, To water.

All these severall uses may the Præpositions have.

Of an I N T E R I E C T I O N .

A N I N T E R J E C T I O N is a broken indeclinable part of Speech, which expresseth a sudden passion of the minde in an imperfect voice.

Some are of Rejoycing: As, Hey, Hey, or Heida, Och, Oh, O brarf, Oh brave.

Of Sorrow or greefe: As, Eylacy, Alas, Och my, Ah me, Ach, Ah, Ey, Alack.

Of Detestation: As, Fory, Phy.

Of Exhortation: As, Sa, Sa, Sa fall on, Lustigh, Lustely, Weer aen, Once more, &c.

Of Laughing: As, Ha, Ha, Ho, Ho,

Of Calling: As, Hou, Hem, Hola.

Of Threatning: As, Weeghy, Woe yee.

Of Silence: As, Sus, Smyght, ofte, Wiest te vreden, Hush, Mom, Owist, or Peace.

Of taking Heede: As, Siet toe, Take heed, Wacht u, Beware, or Gard yee.

Of Admiration: As, O Gods, O God! O Heere, O Lord!

Of Crying: Och my, Oh me, Och arme Ziele, Oh poore Soule, O dierbare liefde, Oh deare love.

And thus much of the foure Indeclinable parts of Speech.

OF SYN-

OF SYNTAXIE,
or the order of the CONSTRUCTION of words, called t' SAMENVOE-GINGE, and fiſt of the Particles.

NOUNES are commonly expreſſed with Particles; as, De man heeft dat gedaen, The man hath done that, and not as the Latines doe, Man heeft dat gedaen; and we ſay, Daer was een menſch, There was a man, and not, Daer was menſch: In this we imitate the Greeke tongue.

A Particle alwayes cometh before a Noun whereof one ſpeaketh; as, De man, The man, Een vrouwe, A woman, De boomen, The trees.

The Particles are often omitted in the Plurall Number; as, Menſchen hebben dat ghe- daen, Men hath done that, Ghy hebt u als mannen gedragen, Ye have carried your ſelves as men, Vele goede menſchen, Many good men, Daer zijn meer vrome Helden, There are many valiant Champions, &c.

Theſe Nounes following are many times ſpoken without Particles; as, Wijn, Wine, Water, Water, Goudt, Gold, Zilver, Silver, Loodt, Lead, Tin, Tinne, Ryckdom, Ri- cheſſe, Armoede, Poverty, Bloodtheys, Faint- heartedneſſe, Stoutheydt, Boldneſſe, and ſuch like. But if a queſtion be asked; as, What is this? One answereth: Het is wine, It is wine, Het is water, It is water, Het is Ryckdom die menigh menſch ten verderve brengt, It is Riches which bringeth many men to deſtruction.

Alſo the names of Countries, Kingdomes, and Townes, are ſpoken without Particles; as, Engelandt is een Eylandt, England is an Iland, and not, Het Engelandt; Likewise, Vranckryck is langen tijdt vry gheweest, France hath been a long time free, and not, Het Vranckryck, The France. But the Particle often comes before; as, Het Jeruſalem, beto- king ſome excellencie.

Note that the names of many Cities or Townes will hard'y ſuffer a Particle to come before them, but rather the Relative, Welck, Which, in the coherence of a reaſon; as, Ie- ruſalem welck David verwon, Jeruſalem which David inhabited, Roomen welck over de wereldt heerſchte, Rome which domineered over the world.

The names of moneths are often-times ut- tered without Particles; as, In April, In Mey, Het is nu October, It is now October, and not, the October.

Alſo the names of many fruits of the earth, may be omitted; as, Gras, Graſſe, Kooren, Corne, Metael, Mettell, Peper, Pepper, Wijn, Wine, Loot, Lead, Sijde, Silke; and theſe Particles are left out in ſuch ſpeeches as theſe; Gras en Kooren mayen, To mowe Graſſe and Corne, In Metael werken, To worke in Mettell, Peper koopen, To buy Pepper, Wijn drincken, To drinke Wine, Loot ſmelten, To melt Lead, Sijde bereyden, To prepare Silke.

But when as the name of a man or of a wo- man hath an Adjective before it, then it will require a Particle; as, De goede Ian, The good John, De kuyſſche Suſanna, The chaſt Suſanna, De wiſſe Salomon, The wiſe Solomon. Other- wiſe, the proper names of men and women have noe neede of the Particles, and it is an ill manner of ſpeech uſed by many, when they ſay, Saul vervolghde den David, ende David ver- ſloeg den Goliath; but it is better to leave both the Particles Den (The) out, and ſay, Saul vervolghde David, ende David verſloeg Goliath, Saul perſecuted David, and David ſmit Goliath; Except ye ſpeake of a certaine perſon by the way of excellencie; as, Dat is den David daer van wy ſpreken, That is the David whereof we ſpeake, Dat is den MESSIAS welcke verwacht was, That is the MESSIAS which was expected.

Alſo the names of Rivers and Mountaines will have Particles before them; as, Den Rhyn, The Rhyne, De Thames, The Thames, Den bergh Atlas, The mount Atlas, De Alpen, The Alps.

Of the Particles Finite and Indefinite.

The Finite Particles are De and Het, The; for if one ſaith, De menſch, The man, De boom, The tree, Het beest, The beaſt, ſo is underſtood there-by, that we knowe, Dien menſch,

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

But if one should say, Een mensch, A man, Een boom, A tree, Een beest, A beast; there is noe speciall knowledge thereof; and therefore the Particle Een, A, is Indefinite.

Adjectives which are of the Sing. Number, will suffer noe Particles to be set before them: As, Een Wijse, Een Heylige, Een goede, &c. these speeches are imperfect, but are much better spoken in the Plurall Number; As, De Wijse, The Wise, De Heylige, The Saints, De Goede, The Good.

This taketh place in the nomination of nations, people, or citizens; for it is an absurd manner of speech to say, Een Duytsche, Een Boheemsche, Een Roomsche, Een Engelsche, which falls harsh in the utterance of them, but rather in stead thereof to say, Een Duytsch, A Dutchman, Een Bohemer, A Bohemian, Een Romeyn, A Romane, Een Engelsch-man, An English-man. But if we speake of a woman, we say more fitly, Het is eene Duytsche, Eene Boheemsche, Eene Roomsche, or eene Engelsche, It is a Dutch, A Bohemish, A Romish, or an English woman, &c.

Of the Construction of Adjectives.

When Adjectives are taken for Substantives, they end sometimes in the Plurall Number in en: As, De Heyligen, The Saints, De dooden, The dead, &c. but for the most part all Adjectives becoming Substantives, fall better by casting off n in the end of a word, and to say, De Rechtsvaerdige, The Righteous, De Godsalige, The Godly, &c.

Of Adjectives of the Plurall Number, and in the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative Cases.

Again; when as Adjectives stand for Substantives, they end the Genitive Case in n: As, Der vromen, Of the good, Der Godsaligen, Of the Godly, Der geleerden, Of the learned.

The Adjectives of the Dative Case end in n, whether with or without Substantives; As, Denn vromen, To the good, Denn Godsaligen, To the Godly, Denn geleerden, To the learned.

The Accusative Case is like the Nomina-

A Netherdutch Grammar.

tive: As, De vrome, ofte vromen, The good, De Godsalige, ofte Godsaligen, The Godly, De geleerde, ofte geleerden, The learned, &c.

When Adjectives of the Neuter Gender stand for Substantives, they have an e upon the end of them: As, Het goede, The good, Het geestelike, The Spirituall, Het toekomstige, The future; and in these manner of speeches they followe the Grecians.

There is a great difference in the word goede: For if one say, Hy heeft het goede, that is meant as if one should speake in the Plurall Number, Hy heeft eenige goederen, He hath some goods: And het goede can not be meant of goederen, goods; As for example, De Rijke en besitten niet altijd het goede, maar wel de goederen deser werelt, The rich possesse not alwayes the good part, but well the goods of this world.

There are some Adjectives, which are declined with s in the end of the Genitive case; As, goeds, quaets, schoons, drooghs, geheels, &c. which words take place in these speeches; as, Veel goeds, Many goods, Wat quaeds, Some evils, Yet schoons, Some thing faire, Drooghs voets, Dry-footed, Niet geheels, Not whole, Hy is rechts, He is right-handed, Hy is slincks, He is left-handed, Hy is goet kindts, He loves children, Goeds Paerds, He loveth horses. Of this nature are also these speeches: As, Een vendel volcks, A colour of men, Een hoop koorens, A heape of corne, Een dronck waters, A draught of water, &c.

With the Adjectives we say, Het Spaensh, The Spanish, Het Latijn, The Latine, Het Fransh, The French, Het Engelsch, The English speech; which being spoken at large, or by circumlocution, one saith, De Spaensche ofte Latijnsche Sprake.

Likewise we say, Op het Fransh, Op het Engelsch, na het Grieks, in stead of, op de Fransche, Engelsche ofte Grieksche, that is, after the French, English, or Greekish manner: they say also, Op zijn Fransh, Op zijn Engelsch, After the French or English fashion: but this manner of speech is (though very common) more rude then the former.

When Adjectives come with Verbs Substantives, they remaine many times in the Neuter Gender without change of termination; As, Hy is vroom, He is honest, it is in Latine, Probum est. Also in the Plurall Number, Wy waren vroom, We were honest, Probum eramus, we say also, Sy was vroom, ende, Sy waren vroom, She was honest, and, I they were honest; where there is noe alteration of the Adjective vroom, honest, neither in the Singular nor Plurall Number.

Unlesse a Particle cometh betwixt; as, Da waren de Wyse ny Oosten, That were the Wise men out of the East, Sy zijn die ellandige, They were those miserable ones.

But if to the former words, a Substantive should come, being spoken in the Plurall Number, so must also the Adjectives be of the Plurall Number: As, Wy zijn alle ellandige menschen, We are all miserable men, And, Sy waren vrome lieden, They were honest people.

The Construction of Substantives with the Adjectives.

The Adjectives goe alwayes before Substantives, in Gender, Number and Case, As, Een goet man, A good man, De goetde vrouwen, The good women, &c.

An Exception.

But contrarie to this rule we finde these speeches, Daer is ontrent twintigh ofte dertigh man, There is about twentie or thirtie man, In stead of, Daer zijn ontrent twintigh ofte dertigh mannen, There are about twentie or thirtie men. Also, Het is twee jaer geleden, in stead of, Het zijn twee jaren geleden, It is two yeare agoe.

A Pronoun Relative needeth not alwayes agree with a Substantive; As, De Bode welck hulpe ghy gebruyckt, is weder-gekomen, The Messenger whose help you used, is come againe.

When as an Adjective comes before a Substantive, and the Particle before it, then the Particle must be set before all the words: As, De vrome Godsalige man, The honest Godly man, De geheele Wet, The whole Law, De gansche nacht, The whole night. When diverse Adjectives followe one another, it is very convenient that en or ende come betwixt them; As for example, Een vroom en Godsaligh man, A honest and a Godly man, Een lange ende duyfiere nacht, A long & a dark night.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Note, that for the most part the Conjunction en is used in the stead of ende, and for brevities sake: But whensoever after en these Particles de, de, or die, follow, then it is better to say ende, because it may appeare that the word in doth not belong to the word following.

Two Adjectives are often found to come after a Substantive: As, Het is een man goedaerdigh en geleert, He is a man good-natured and learned: Likewise these Adjectives followe the Substantives; As, Door Philips de tweede, By Philip the second, De nacht vooreden, The night past, Een sack vol, A bagge full, Een dagh langh, A day long, &c.

Of two Substantives.

When two Noun Substantives come together, one of them is put in the Genitive Case; As, Pieters boeck, Peters booke, Davids Psalmen, Davids Psalmes, Salomons wijsheydt, Salomons wisdom; which speeches agree with our English: as also, Gods Woort, Gods Word; so that ye see the declined words are, Pieters, Davids, Salomons, Gods.

Contrarie to this rule, there is an abuse crept in, because some learned men doe followe the Latine manner, and say, De Psalmen Davids, The Psalmes of David, De wijsheydt Salomons, The wisdom of Salomon, Het Boeck Iobs, The Book of Iob, Het zaedt Abrahams, The seede of Abraham, Het huys Jacobs, The house of Jacob.

And by this bad custome, these speeches are received for good; as, Kinderen Gods, Gods children, Kinderen Israels, Israels children, Man Gods, A man of God, Sone Gods, Gods Sonne, Dienaer Gods, Gods servant, which are all Genitives; as if you should say, The children of Israell; and so of the rest.

In Read of the declension in the Genitive Case, wee expresse those Substantives more at large; As, De Psalmen van David, The Psalmes of David, De wijsheydt van Salomon, The wisdom of Salomon, &c.

Note,

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Note, also the difference which is in this declension, as, De voorſichtigheyd der vrouwe, The foresight of a woman, ende, Der vrouwe voorſichtigheyd, The womans foresight, &c. But the first is the best phrase.

Obſerve also, that in ſtead of declining ſome words, there is an ill uſe crept in, that ſome times thoſe words are undeclined; as, Sijn wijs ſuſter, His wives ſiſter, for, Sijns wijs ſuſter, The ſiſter of his wife. As alſo, Djn volck Israël's ere, Thy folke Israël's honour, De ſtadt Haarlems privilegie, The towne of Haarlems priviledge, In ſijn vaders plaetſe, In his fathers place, Heur Ooms dochter, Her Uncles daughter, Sijn moeders ſone, His mothers ſonne, Daſ diers aert, That beaſts nature, Van mijn kindts wegen, In my child's behalfe, all which are of the Genitive Caſe.

When as in a reaſon two Caſes follow one an other, it is a more gracefull ſpeech, that in the place of the one Caſe, ye put in it the Præpoſition Van, Of; As, De macht Van den Vorſt der vrede, is more elegant then to ſay, De macht des Vorſts der vrede, The might of the Prince of peact. As likewiſe, De Wet van den Geest des levens, is better then if one ſaid, De Wet des Geests des levens, The Lawe of the Spirit of life. Rom. 8.

Obſervations of words, which belong to the Genitive Caſe.

Theſe words, as, Veel, Weynigh, ofte Lutſel, Niets, Wat, Meer, Min, Vol, and Een, are many times put into the Genitive Caſe; as, Veel goeds, Much goods, Weynigh ofte luttel gelds, Little money, Meer verſtandis, More underſtanding, Minder tijds, Leſſer time, Vol drucks, Full of tribulation, Onſer een, One of us, Een der borgheren, One of the citizens; which uſe of words it ſeeme, our Forefathers have borrowed from the Grecians and Latines.

Note, that theſe ſpeeches have ſome affinity with the Genitive Caſe; As, Hy dede het willens en wuens, ofte onverſiens, He did it willingly and wittingly, or unawares, &c.

Genoegh, follows the Genitive Caſe; As, Moedts genoegh, Courage enough, Goeds ge-

A Netherdutch Grammar.

noegh, Goods enough, Der beloſten genoegh, or, Beloften genoegh, Promiſes enough.

Waerdigh and Gelijck, may be put in the Genitive and Dative Caſes. In the Genitive Caſe; As, Hy en is mijns niet waerdigh, He is not worthy of mee, Hy en was onſer niet waerdigh, He was not worthy of us, Hy en was eenner ſoodaniger plaetſe niet waerdigh, He was not worthy of ſuch a place.

And alſo in the Dative Caſe; Wie is my gelijck? Who is like unto me? Wie is hem gelijck? Who is like to him? Wie is ons gelijck? Who is like unto us? Wy zijn hun-lieden gelijck, ende ſy zijn den Romeynen gelijck, We are like unto them, and they are like to the Romans.

The word wille accommodates it ſelfe after the Genitive Caſe: As, Om des woords wille, For the words ſake, or, For love of the word, Om der beloſten wille, For the promiſe ſake: or, For love of the promiſe.

Diverſe Phraſes upon the Genitive.

Caſe: As,

Drooghs voets, Dry foot, that is, with dry foot. Drooghs mondts, With a dry mouth: that is. Nuchters monts, With a faſting mouth. Bloots lijfs, With a naked body. Bloots voets, With bare feete. By tijds, By tijds, By tijds, That is, In tijds, In time. Des daeghs, By day. Des tweeden daeghs, The ſecond day. Des nachts, By night. Des ſeven den jaers, The ſeventh yeare. Des Winters, The Winter, or, Of the Winter. Des Somers, The Summer, or, Of the Summer. Eenmaal des jaers, Once a yeare, Eens des nachts, Once a night.

Theſe manner of ſpeeches, are propterto the Greeke Tongue, with a little alteration in theſe following phraſes, but tend all to one and the ſame end: As, Eens ter maents, Once a month, for, Eens der maent, Once of the month, Eens ter weke, or, Eens des weeks, Once a weeke, or, Once of the weeke, Hy gingh ſijns weeghs, He went his way, or, on his way, &c.

Of the Adjectives with a Dative Caſe.

Adjectives and Verbes, which betoken ſome occaſion, opportunity, profit, neceſſitie, friendſhip, propriety, or likeneſſe, require many times a Dative Case; As, Dat is my gelegen, That is an occasion to mee, or for mee. Gode meer gehoorfamen, dan den menschen, To give obedience to God, more then to men. Het is den volcke nut, It is profitable to the people. Het is hun swaer om doen, It is hard for them to doe. Hy is sijnen vader gelijk, He is like to his father. Wy zijn der Wet gestorven, We are dead to the Law. De Lucht is allen menschen gemeyn, The Aire is common to all men.

The Construction and use of the PRONOUNES.

THere is some uses and common speeches of Pronounes, worthy of consideration.

The Interrogatorie Wat, What, is used without distinction of Gender or Number; As, Wat soeckt ghy? What seekest thou? Or, Wat doet ghy? What dost thou; By which questions are understood, ick soecke dat goeds, dien man, ofte, die dingen, I seeke that good, that man, or, those things, &c. This use the Netherdutchers have from the Latine, but in these speeches following, they digresse from the Latines, and followe the French; As, Dit, ofte dat is mijne dienstmaeght, This or that is my maid-servant. Dit, ofte dat zijn mijne knechten, These, or those are my servants.

Also the Interrogatorie Wat, is used in the Genitive Case; As, Wat wijs soen? The sonne of what woman? Like wise they say, Welck wijs soen? Which womans sonne? Wat mans kinderen waren dat? The children of what man were they? in stead of, welcken mans kinderen, Which mans children, &c.

Wat man hebt ghy het gegeven? What man hast thou given it to? for, Welcken man? Met wat man? With vvhich man? in stead of, Met welcken man? With which man? Met wat vrouwe? With what woman? for, Met welke, vrouwe? With vvhich vvoman; Also, Wat beest, ofte beesten? What beast, or beasts? for Welck beest, ofte beesten? Which beast, or beasts?

Of Pronounes Relatives.

After Die gene (That man, or He) alwaies followeth a Pronoun Relative; As, Die gene is geluckigh, welke Godts Woordt bewaert,

A Netherdutch Grammar.

That man, (or He) is blessed, which keepeth Gods Word. Here ye see that Die gene and welcke, answere one an other. Also, after Die gene may followe the Relative Die, Which; As, Die gene die dat doet, sal leven, He which doth that, shall live. After Die may follow an other Die; As, Die dat doet, die sal daer in leven, He which doth that, he shall live therein. Againe, De steen die de bouw-lieden verworpen hebben, die is een Hoofd des boecks geworden. But in stead of Die, if ye use the Relative Vvelcke, it is more elegant in saying, De steen welke de bouw-lieden verworpen hebben, die is tot een hoofd des boecks geworden, The stone which the builders have rejected, is become the chiefe corner-stone. Also is it very gracefull to say, VWie dat doet, Die sal leven, Who doth that, He shall live.

Dat and Die have relation one to an other; As, Dat zijn goede lieden, Die het quade verdragen, They are good people, Which doe suffer wrong or evill.

Of Pronounes Possessives.

When Pronounes Possessives are joynd with Substantives, there can noe Particles be set before them; As, Mijn meester, My master, Sijn Oom, His Uncle, Heur Broeder, Her Brother, Onse Vaders, Our Fathers, Vw' Neve, Your Nephew, Haer Vooght, Their Tutour.

But with Pronounes Possessives, the Particles may be added without Substantives or Adjectives; As, Den mijnen, Mine, Den sijnen, Hisen, Den haren, Hirs; but not, Den mijnen meester, Den sijnen oom, Den haren broeder, &c. which are improper speeches.

It seemeth without doubt, that these Possessives in the Masculine Gender, may end in n with a Particle; in such sort to discern the Masculine Gender from the Fœminine; as thus: Masc. Dit is den mijnen, This is mine. Fœm. Dit is de mijne, This is mine. Dit is den onsen, and, Dit is de onse, This is ours, Den uwen, De uwe, Yours, Den sijnen, Hissen, De sijne, Hers.

The Genders are likewise distinguished, when as the Possessives are spoken without Particles; As, Masc. Vwen, Fœm. Vwe, Vw', Your.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Your. Onsen, Onse, Ons, Ours, and Our. Sijn, Sijne, Sijn, His, and Hers.

The use of these Pronounes we have in these following speeches; as, Zoude dat den uwen geweest hebben? Should that have been yours? Mijnen heeft dat gedaen, want uwen en soude het nimmermeer doen, Mine hath done that, for yours would never have done it.

It seemeth also that there be some Adjectives, which ought to be spoken thus, to expresse some speciall seperation; as, Den grooten, The grands, or the great ones, Den machtigen, The mightie, Den Heyligen, The Saints, Eenen rechtvaerdigen, Some righteous man.

In the Relative Pronounes, we use also these manner of speeches; as, De mijne, De heere, De sijne, De uwe, De onse, De hare, that is, Het is mijn volck, Knechten, Dienaren, ofte Kinderen, It is my folke, Men, Servants, or Children, &c.

In these Pronounes also, we use these manner of speeches; as, Tot mijnent, At my house, Tot onsent, At our house, By uwent, By yours, Om sijnent wille, For his sake, Om harent wille, For their sakes, Mijnent halven, For my part, which are now growne much in use.

THE CONSTRUCTION of Verbes.

BY Verbes there are often-times some compleat, or dependent words used; as, De man is daer, ofte, De man isser, The man is there; Here these small words daer and isser joyned with the Verbe betoken nothing else, but the Toone of the Pronunciation, also in these speeches following, Gaet-er yemands? Goes there one? Gaet hy-der, Goeth he there? And thus we use Daer and Het in the beginning of a reason; as, Daer was een man, There was a man, Het was een sake, It was a case, Al waren het Casars, Though they were Cæsars.

Of Verbes with a Genitive Case.

With the Verbe Zijn, To Be, we have a manner of speech, which signifieth a propriety in the Genitive case; as, De Aerde is des Heeren, The Earth is the Lords, Psal. 24. Allo, Dit is mijns Vaders, This is my Fathers, Het is eenes goeden Herders de kudde te scheeren

A Netherdutch Grammar.

It is a good Sheep-heard, that sheares the Flock.

Genadigh zijn, requireth also a Genitive Case; As, Weest onser genadigh, Be mercifull to us, or, Have mercie on us.

Of Verbes with a Dative Case.

All Verbes which betoken giving or taking away, are of the Dative case; as, Ick geve hun die gijfte, I give to them that gift, Hy heeft sijn Vyanden den roof onnomen, He hath taken the spoile from his Enemies; Ick vertoon mijn sake ten Hove, I shewe my cause to the Court; Het was onsen vaderen beloofst, maer den kinderen qualick gehouden, It was our Fathers promise to us, but badly kept to the children; Hy geeft dat sijner Vriendinne, He giveth that to his Shee-frend; Het Ryck komt die toe, The Kingdom belongs to thee; Hun is de eer, The honour is to them, Den vromen zijn alle goederen gemeyn, To the honest all things are common.

Of Verbes with the Accusative Case.

Many Verbes of the Masculine Gender, & of the Singular Number, require an Accusative Case after the Verbe, with the Adjectives after them; as, Ick beminne mijnen Vader, I love my Father, Ick volge mijnen geluckigen Meester, I followe my happie Master, Hy haat sijnen Naestn, He hateth his Neighbour.

Note, that here these Adjectivall Pronounes Mijnen, Mine, Zijnen, His, are put in the Accusative Case, but for the further amplification, & the expression of the necessity of the Dative and Accusative cases, here follow some examples, which may be shunned in the doubtfulnesse of these Cases; as, Ick beminne mijn Vader, I love my father, that is, O ick beminne mijn Vader, O I love my Father: but, Ick beminne mijnen Vader, that is, Mijn Vader wordt van my bemind, My Father is beloved by mee.

So likewise, Geluckigh is het volck, welck de Heere verkieft, and, Geluckigh is het volck, welck den Heere verkieft, Blessed is the people, whom the Lord choleteth.

Note, that in the first speech, De Heere verkieft het volck, The Lord choleteth the people.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

and in the last, De Heere words verkoren, The Lord is chosen; Alsolikewise of Die & Dien, as, Die de Heere bemindt, Those which love the Lord, and, Dien den Heere bemindt, He which loveth the Lord, Ghy die verslagen hebt, Thou which hast beaten, Dien ghy verslagen hebt, Him or whom thou hast beaten, Die ghy verslagen hebt, Those which thou hast beaten; here is doubtlesse three differences of Speeches, through a small alteration.

Note, that many Declensions, and Cases, which in the Netherdutch ought to be observed, retaine not alwayes the same alterations, when as Adjectives accompanie them, for we say very fitly, Godt zy lof, God be praised; but if we should say, Den goeden Godt zy lof, ofte, Onsen Godt zy lof, that were not so proper; also we say, Godt heeft ons ten goede gheschapen, God hath created us for good; but by the word Goede it will not suffer any adjective to come with it; as, Ten eeuwigen goeden, For everlasting good, ofte, ten besten goeden, For the best good.

Of Adjectives after Substantives.

When as after a Noun proper an Adjective cometh, it is put in the Nominative Case; as, Beleyt door Spil-bergen den Veldt-overste, Conducted by Spil-bergen the Generall, Over-wonnen van Alexander de Groote, Conquered by Alexander the Great, Door Philippus de tweede, By Philip the second.

Of Impersonall Verbes.

Impersonall Verbes with a Pronoun are put in the Dative Case; as, Het geschiedt my, It hapned to mee, Het ghebeurt allen menschen, It hapneth to all men, Wien en soude sulcks niet ontmoeten, To whome should not such a thing befall.

Verbes also become Impersonall by putting of words in the Dative Case, as in head, ICK dorst, I thirst; one saith, My dorst, I thirst, ICK verlange, I long, My verlanght, I long, Sy beswaren, They grieve, Hun be-waert, &c.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Of the Placing of Adjectives.

Adjectives come commonly before Substantives; as, Mijn Vader, My Father, Een goede saecke, A good cause, De eenvoudige ofte simpele oprechtheydt, The simple uprightness.

But these manner of speeches, when the Adjective followes the Substantive; as, O Godt mijn, Vre wegen goet, De Sterren klaer; Mijn, Goet, Klaer, are growne out of use as well in Prose as in Verse.

The usuall place of the Genitive Case, is upon the end of a reason in the Plurall Number; as, De naefstgheydt der geirouwe Dieneren, The diligence of the Faithfull Ministers, Het Gebiedt der Godt-zaligen, The Prayer of the Godly.

But in the Singular Number, the Genitive is put before the reasons, which oftentimes is a Noun Substantive; as, Onses Vaders Erve, Inheritance of our Fathers, Des Koningh Davids Psalmen, Psalmes of King David, Onses Heeren CHRISTVS Lijden, Passion of our Lord CHRIST.

Of the Indicative Moode.

The Pronouns, ICK, I, Ghy, Thou; Hy, He, for the Singular Number, Wy, Wee, Ghy, ofte Ghy-lieden, Yee, Sy, ofte Sy-lieden, They; for the Plurall Number, and Indicative Moode come before Verbs; as, ICK doe, I doe, Ghy doet, Thou Doest, Hy doet, He doth, Wy doen, Wee doe, Ghy-lieden doet, Yee doe, Sy-lieden doen, They doe.

But in asking or demanding a question; these Pronouns followe Verbes; as, Wilt ghy? Wilt thou? Doe ick? Doe I? Doet ghy? Doest thou? &c.

When as before Verbes, there comes an Adverbe, then the Verbes come before the Pronouns; as:

Doe deden wy dat, Then did wee that.

Gister waren wy vrolick, Yesterday were wee merrie.

In double Pronouns, as, ICK die, I which, Ghy die, Thou which, Ghy-lieden die, Yee which which, Sy die, They which, Ick self, I my selfe, Ghy self, Thou thy self, &c: alwayes the Pronounes, Ick, Ghy, Sy, and Wy, must be set before. As, Ick die dat doe, I which doe that; Ghy die in den Hemel zijt, Thou which art in Heaven; Wy die verslegen hebben, We which have smitten.

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Otherwise the sense of the words are changed; As, Die ick dat doe, Which I doe that, and, Die wy verslegen hebben, Which we have smitten. So that the setting of these words before, make an alteration in the sense.

In the Present and Præter-imperfect tenses, in the place of Verbes, as thus:

Ick hebbe werck, I have vvorke.

Ghy hebt wijsheydt, Thou hast wisdom.

Wy hebben alle dingen, We have all things.

In the Præter-perfect, Præter-pluperfect, and Future tenses:

Ick hadde werck gehad, I had had vvorke.

Ghy haddet wijsheydt gehad, Thou hadst had wisdom.

Wy sullen alle dingen hebben, We shall or will have all things.

Many vvords, as, Die, Welcke, Als, Gelijck, Och, Op dat; As,

Als ick dat doe, When I doe that.

Ick die dat doe, I vvhich doe that.

Ick welcke dat doe, I vvhich doe that.

Op dat ick dat doe, To the end I doe that.

The words, Sal, Sullen, Soude, and Souden, are used in the Indicative Moode before Verbs of the Infinitive Moode; As,

Ick sal arbeiden, I shall or will labour.

Wy souden veel meer bedrijven, We should doe much more.

Wy sullen op die sake hopen, We will hope upon that business.

But in these following speeches, these words come after the Infinitive Moode: As, Wanneer ick arbeiden sal, When I shall labour.

Als wy wel veel bedrijven souden, When we should doe much.

Als wy op de sake hopen sullen, When we shall hope on that business.

But when as in a reason there are Infini-

A Netherdutch Grammar.

tive Moodes, then these words comer never before the Verbes: As,

Op dat ick dat soude gaen doen, To the end I should goe to doe that.

Als ghy dat sult gaen doen, When thou shalt goe to doe that.

Als sy-lieden souden loopen jagen, When they should goe to hunt.

Verbes of the Infinitive Moode.

A Verbe of the Infinitive Moode, is oftentimes put in the place of a Noun Substantive, which the Netherdutches borrowe from the Greeke Tongue; As, Rijck zijn is meer in het gebruycken, dan in het besitten, To be rich is more in the use, then in the possession. Where note, that gebruycken, To use, and besitten, To possesse, become Substantives.

Again: Scherp om alles te doorsien, Sharp-sighted to see through all things; Hvoordeels het te wagen, He judgeth to hazard it; Hy gingh arbeiders huren, He went to hire labourers; Hy gingh te vechten, He went to fight.

Where note, that when two Verbes followe one another, the last is the Infinitive Moode.

Of the Construction of Ad- verbes.

The use of Adverbes is partly shovne before in the description of Adverbes, but we will shew novv some more particular use of them.

Tot, (which signifieth To) is a motion to a place: As, Tot Delft, ofte, Na Delft tot, To vvard Delft, Tot Amsterdam, ofte, Na Amsterdam tot, Towards Amsterdam.

The names of some Townes require Ter instead of Tot: As, Ter Goude, Ter Veer.

When one speaketh of any thing that is hapned, they use this Particle te: As, Het geschiede te Leyden, It hapned at Leyden, Het is te Amsterdam gedruyck, It is printed at Amsterdam: but we finde oftentimes, Tot Leyden, At Leyden, &c. which notwithstanding declines from the right use.

Also with the vvor Tot we expresse some thing that hath been done, as in these speeches;

Tot

Tot Vaders, At my Fathers houſe, Tot Pitters, At Peters, Tot onſent, At our houſe, Tot ſijnen, At his houſe.

In, is commonly ſet before the names of townes and countries; as, In Leyden, In Leyden, In Delft, In Delft, In Engelandt, In Engeland, In Hollandt, In Holland, In Chriſten-rijck, In Chriſtendome.

And the Præpoſition In, we have in theſe ſpeeches; as, In twee ſnijden, In two cuts, alſo, In drie, In three, In vieren, In Foure, In vijven, In Five, &c. In deſen, that is, In deſe dingen, In theſe things, and In dien, that is, In die dingen, In thoſe things, In velen, that is, In vele dingen, In many things.

Of the CONSTRUCTION of Præpoſitions.

Op der aerden, Upon the earth.
Van eenderlev meyninge zijn, To be of one meaning or minde. Met der haest, ofte metter haest. With haſt.

Likewiſe we ſay alſo, Wt der ſtadt, ofte, Van der ſtadt, Out of the town, or, From the town, Met der tijds, ofte metter tijds, With time. Tot der doods, ofte totter doods, To the death, or till death. Wt der natuyre, ofte uytter natuyre, Out of nature, or by nature.

Ter ſelver tijds, At the ſame time.
Ter goeder uyre, At a good howre.
Ter laetſter tijt, At, or in the laſt time, &c.

An Obſervation of vvords of Number.

Words of Number are theſe, Een, Twee, Drie, Vier, Vijf, Ses, Tien, theſe words are uſed in theſe ſpeeches following:

By eenen, Nigh one a clock, By twee, Nigh two a clock, By dryen, Neere three a clock, Met ons twee, With us two, Met ſijn drie, With his three, Met haer vieren, With their four. Or thus: Met ſijn tweeder, derder, vierder, &c. Hy quam met de elve, He came with the eleven, Ick kome met tiene, I come with ten, Ick hebbe het van een, van twee, ofte van drie gehoort, I have heard it of one, two, or of three. Dat is een van de twee, ofte van de drie. That is one of the two, or of the three. In twee, drie, ofte vieren. In two, three, or foure peeces, &c.

And thus have you the uſe and phraſes of the Netherdutch Præpoſitions.

Of PROSODIE.

PROSODIE, is a part of Grammar, which giveth the true Tone and Accent to Wordes and Syllables, and first of pointing.

They are in Number, to wit, a Comma, a Colon, a full Point, or a Period, an Interrogation, an Admiration, a Parenthesis, a Copulation, and a Division.

A Comma is a note of breathing in a sentence marked betwene or at the loot of a word, either thus (,) or thus (;) As in these Substantives; De Vorsten, Velds-overste, Hofst lieden, ende Bevel-hebbers, waren de voornaemste oorsake van de overwinninge, The Princes, the Generall, Commanders, and Captaines, were the principall cause of the victory.

Of Adjectives; Want sy waren kloek, couragieus, veel-sprekende, ende vlijtigh, For they were valiant, couragious, eloquent, and diligent.

Of Verbs; Beschick'n, Moedt geven, Aanvoeren, ende Volherden den strijdt, To Order, To give Courage, To Lead on, and to Continue the battle.

Of Adverbs; Ende hielden het voor, achter, midden, ter zijden, ende over al in goede ordeninge, And held in the front, reere, middle, the flanks, and every where good order.

Adjectives with Substantives; Als verstarde Krijghs-oversten, stoutte Voor-rechters, naerstige Besorgers, ende getrouwe volvoerders der saken, As understanding Chieftaines, able or stout Combatants, diligent Takers of care, and faithfull Performers of businesse.

Moreover to divide and distinguish firme reasons and speeches; As thus, Veeler soude men vermorselen, dan vermorven ofte bekeeren, de gene, die ganssch verstockt ende verhardt zijn in het quaets; One might rather breake in peeces, then to soften or turne those, which are wholly obdurated and hardned in evill.

Or thus; Als een vrouwe hare schaemte ende eere verloren heeft, al hadde sy noch enige deughs

by haer, die words haer weynigh tot lof na-geseyt; When a woman hath lost her modestie and honestie, though shee may have some other vertue in her, yet it will serve but little to her praise.

Of a Colon.

A Colon is a Note of longer breathing then a Comma, and it marked thus (:) As; Soo yemandt u komt andienen, dat een ander eenigh quaets van u seydt, en onschuldigh u niet te seer van het gene datter geseyt is: maer antwoorde al-enlick alsoo: Hem moeten noch veel andre van mijne ghebreecken ende onvolkomenheden onbekent zijn: want anders en soude hy dit niet alleen geseyt hebben; If any body comes to tell thee, that one hath spoken evill of thee, doe not excuse thy self too much of that there is said: but answere onely thus: There are many other of my weaknesse and infimities unknowne to him: otherwise he would not have spoken this alone.

Hereby thou shalt shoue thy self a meeke man, and himsef a spitefull body, and none can truly reprove thee for it. In which sentence there are three Colons.

Of a full Point, or a Period.

A Period is a full distinction, and a Note of longest breathing, which after a full sentence and speech is thus noted (.) and the next sentence beginneth with a Capitall or a great Letter.

Of an Interrogation or asking of a question.

An Interrogation is marked thus (?) at the end of a reason: As, Wanneer sullen wy ten eynde komen? When shall wee come to and end? &c.

Of an Admiration.

A Note of Admiration, or Wondring, is used upon the end of a woord, vvhich betokeneth Admiration, as; Ey wat dingh is dat! O what thing is that!

Some of Invocation marked thus (!) As, O Godt bevaert my! O God keepe me!

Bbb

Some

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Some of Rejoicing ! As, O wat een soet ver-mac! O what a sweere delight !

Some of Greefe or Complaint ; As, *O
wee my ellendige!* O wee me miserable wretch!

Of a Parenthesis.

A Parenthesis is made vvith tvo halfe Moones, a clause coming betweene, marked thus ( ) ; As, Die is een Heerscher over een ander, dewelcke (of sy willen ofte niet) hem dwingen kan sijn bevel na te komen ; He is a Ruler over an other ; the which (whether they will or noe) can constraine them to followe his command.

A Note of Insertion marked thus [ ] is a Clause out of an other Authour interceeding, or is that which cometh betwixt, as an addition of the Translator, for the better expression of the writers meaning ; As, [ Ick voege by, I add or joyne to it. ]

Of Hyphen or Copulation.

Hyphen is a Note of Sub-union, either of two words ; As, Over-vloedigh, Super-abundant or ; of the Connexion of two or more Syllables together ; As, On-ker-boren, Un-re-generate, Groot-vader, Grand-father, &c.

Of a Division.

The token of a Division is marked thus-at the end of a line, when as the syllable of a word is parted, and can not stand in one line, but beginneth on other line.

Likewise in speaking (by melting or skipping of Vowels or otherwise) when speeches are uttered with a lesse number of syllables then they should, which is used likewise in writing, by putting in the place of the letters left out this marke ', which is a Note of abbreviation: so that in stead of these particles, de, des, het, ick, hi, te, sy, one writs *d',
's, 't, 'k, 's, 't, 's'* ; as in d'ander, the other,
's mans, the mans, 't sal, it shall, 't hebbe, I have, dat's, that is, 't aensien, to behold, s' n, shee is.

Observations upon each of these Inparticular.

When as the Particle De commeth before

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Nounes Substantives or Adjectives, which begin with a Vowell, then wee put in stead of De, The, D' ; As, D'achterste, The hind-most, D'esels, The asses, D'inwendige, The inward, D'onderste, The undermost, &c.

's in stead of the Particle des, of the, when as vvords begin with a Consonant ; As, 's Hemels, Of the Heavens, 's jaers, Of or for the yeare, 's moeders, Of my mothers, &c. but very fewe of them come before a Vowell, unlesse, 's anderen daeghs, Of the next day,
's avonts, Of the evening ; & some few more.

't, stands for the Particle het, and is much in use, and that before or upon the end of a vvord, either beginning vvith a Vowell or a Consonant ; As, 't armste, the poorest, 't begin, The beginning, verboogte, raise it, op't, upon it, van't, of it, or, of the, in't, in it, or,
in the ; and of such like.

'k, When the Pronounne ick, I, cometh before Verbes, in stead thereof wee use 'k,
As, 'k achte, I account, 'k eysche, I require,
'k wil, I will, 'k sal, I shall.

's, When as after dat, dis, wat, the Verbe is commeth, in place vvhereof vvee use 's, dat's, that is, dis's, this is, wat's, vvhat is.

't, When the Praeposition te or tot come before Nounes, which begin with a Vowell, this Note 't will serve in head of them ; As,
't avont, at evening, 't Amsterdam, At Amsterdam, 't eten, to eate, 't onsen, at our house.

's, In the place of the Pronounne sy, they, wee use 's ; As, Doen's acker-wreck, Doe they husbandrie or tillage? S' een wel, They eate vvell. And this for the abbreviation of vvords, and the cutting off of letters.

Of Prothesis.

Prothesis, vve call a Proposition, that is when one putteth before a name or a word a letter for a syllable, vvith this note ' in the plade of the letter left out, as in these examples ; D'ouders, The elders, 't Hooghste, The highest, T'eerli k, Too honest, S'openbaerde,
They revealed, &c. in stead of, De ouders,
Het hooghste, Teerlick, Sy openbaerde, &c.

And to shewe it more plainly, that these Notes of abbreviation are used in the place of let-

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

of letters left out, I will give you some more examples in these following; As,

T' aenschouwen, To behold, for, Te aenschouwen; T' eygen, To owne, for, Te eygen; T' ydel, Too idle, for, Teydel; T' overschatten, To overtaxe, for, Teverschatten, &c.

As likewise in this Particle Het, when Verbes become Nounes; As, 't Aenschouwen, The beholding, for, Het aenschouwen; 't Eygen, It owne, for, Het eygen; 't Ydel, The vaine, for, Het ydel; 't Overschatten, The overtaxing, for, Het overschatten, &c.

Of Paragoge.

Paragoge is the adding of a letter or a syllable to the end of a word, with this Note of abbreviation; As, Ben's, Am there fore, for, Ben dies; Hebbe's, Have therefore, for, Hebbe dies; Dit's, This is, for, Dit is; Wat's, What is, for, Wat is; Sal's, Shall it, for, Sal het; Van's, Of it, for, Van het, &c.

These two above said, are the chiefeft, which are used both in speaking and writing, especially among Poëts for the composing of their Verses.

Of Synæresis.

Synæresis is called a drawing together, that is, of two syllables into one, and in Netherdutch it is the leaving out of a Vowell in the middle of a word, and for the shortning of a syllable, putting in the place thereof this Note of abbreviation; As, Verdraeg'lick, Tolerably, for, Verdragelick; Gevoeg'lick, Accommodiously, for, Gevoeglick; Kloek'lick, Ably, or Courageously, for, Kloekelick; Gevang'nn, Imprisonment, for, Gevangenis; Bederff'nis, Destruction, for, Bederffenis.

Of Syncope.

Syncope is the cutting or sniping away of a letter, or a syllable, from the middle of a word, to make it the shorter; As, Belae'n, Beladen, for, Beladen; Geva'en, Imprisonned: for, Gevangen; De'en, Did, for, Deden; He'en, Away, for, Henen; Spo'e'n, To make speed, for, Spoeden; Sta'igh, Firme, or Stable, for, Stadigh; Die'r, That there, for, Die daer.

A Netherdutch Grammar.

Of Apocope.

Apocope is the cutting of a letter or syllable, from the end of a word: as if one should write, Dick', Oftentimes, for, Dickwils; Nau', Scarcely, for, Nauwelicks.

Or also, when as a word endeth in e, and that the next word following beginneth with a Consonant, then in the place of e which endeth the word, wee use this abbreviation; As, Woud' hy, Would hee, for, Woude hy; Seyd' sy, Said shee, for, Seyde sy; Bereyding', Preparation, for, Bereydinge; Klaging', Complaining, for, Klaginge; Eer', Honour, for, Eere; Heer', Lord, or Sir, for, Heere.

Of an Apostrophe.

An Apostrophe is a note of cutting off of a Vowell in the end of a word especially the Vowell e, and is marked the top thereof thus; As, Onz' oeffening' end' uw' is al even eens, Our practise and yours is all one.

Hère have I showne you the use of six severall Notes of the Abbreviating of vwords used in the Netherdutch speech, though the Notes and Markes are alike in all these Examples.

Of Synalophe.

Ye must take notice besides all this, that vwhen a vword endeth in e, and that the next vword beginneth vwith a Vowell, though the Note of Abbreviation, be not taken avway from the end of the vword: yet notwithstanding the same e melteth away in the next Vowell vvwhich begins the vword following, and this note is called Synalophe, vvwhich vve name a Waxing together, or a Melting one into an other; Example,

De eerste Onder-richtinge, The first Instruction, and so of many more.

Of Aphæresis.

Aphæresis, is the taking avway of a letter or syllable from the beginning of a vword; as, Voegelick, Conveniently, for, Ghevoeglick; Hoest, Behoofe, for, Behotst; Wis, Sure, for, Gewis; Wondert, Wondred, for, Verwondert; Mercken, To Marke, for, Aenmercken.

Of Epen-

Bbb 2

Een Nederduytsche Grammatica.

Of Epenthesis.

Epenthesis is the Interposition of a letter, or a syllable in the middle of a vword; As, Vlijlick, Speedie, for, Vlijgh; Overgheydt, Superiour, for, Overheyt; Vervaerlick, Fearefull, for, Vervaerlick; Vrygheydt, Freedome; for, Vryheyt; Voor si. bidlick, Provident, for, Voor sichigh; Kleyachigh, Clayie, for, Kleygh.

And thus much of points and the diverse notes and marks of abbreviating and lengthning of vwords.

Of the quantitie and measure of Syllables, either short or long.

First, In all Monosyllables, that is, vwords consisting of one Syllable, there is noe certaine measure in the Pronunciation of these in the tone: for some fall short, and others long in Rhime. But Ham, Den, Der, D, and En, are alwayes commonly short, as also these annexed words; as, Doet-se, Doe they, Gaen-se, Goe they, Sien-we, See vvee, Is-ser, Is there, Heef-ter, Hath there, Loopt-men, Runs one, Hieldt-men, Holds one, Soudt bet, ofte Soudt-et; all vvhich last syllables are pronounced short.

Secondly, In all vwords ye need not to take notice, but of the tvoo last syllables in the pronouncing of them.

Thirdly, In all vwords, ye have a long syllable.

Fourthly, In the Netherdutch tongue there comes not tvoo long syllables together in a vword, vvhich followe one another, so that in vwords of tvoo syllables, ye have both a short and a long syllable.

Fifthly, When a long Syllable comes in a vword, that the Syllable, vvhich cometh before the long Syllable is short, as in Kistelen, Castles, Juwelen, Jewels, the middle Syllable is long, and the first Syllable short, because tvoo long Syllables cannot followe one another in a vword.

Sixthly, All vwords vvhich end in heyt, igh,

A Netherdutch Grammar.

lick, e and er, *igh*eyt, ing e, *ich*eyt, ie, have all their last Syllables short; as, Goetheyt, Goodnesse, Schoonheyt, Fairenesse, Goedigh, Good, Aerdigh, Subtile, Vriendelick, Friendly, Ardrijck, The Earth, Vrouwe, Woman, Name, Name, Wercker, Worker, *Goedigh*eyt, Goodnesse, *Soetigh*eydt, Sweetnesse, Geringe, Giving, Lijdinge, Suffrance, Cierlickheyt, Adorning, Blamatie, Blamitation, Executie, Execution, all which last syllables are uttered short.

Saving Majesteit, Majesty, Graviteit, Gravity, Gelijck, Right, Ongelijck, Wrong.

Sevently, The vwords which end in ment, vvhwhereof the last Syllable is long; as, Testament, Clement.

All Syllables, which have a Single i, in the midit of a word are long; as, Eenige, Any, or Some, Heilige, Holy.

The Participles of the Present tense ending in ende, have the two last Syllables short; as, Minnende, Loving, Leerende, Teaching, Loopende, Ruuning.

Eighly, All double Syllables which begin with Ge, Be, and Ver, have the last Syllable long; as, Gevoel, Opinion, Geloof, Faith, Ghequel, Vexation, Belangh, Belonging, Bequaem, Meete, Verdragh, Agreement, Verlof, Leave.

Note, that the length or shortnesse of the last Syllables are clearely observed in words which encrease a syllable in the Plurall number; For in Tafelen, Tables, Wortelen, Rootes, Mantelen, Cloaks, Wagenen, Wagons, one may easily perceive the last Syllables of Tafel, Wortel, Mantel, and Wagen, to be short.

Also wee finde there is a difference in the Pronunciation of these words, Mantelen, Mattels, Tafere-len, Tablets, Juwelen, Jewels, Gheelen, Wholes, Gesellen, Fellowes, for the middle Syllables are all long.

Note also, there are some words, which end vwith three short Syllables; as, Vriendelickheyt, Friendlinesse, Goeddelickheyt, Divinitie, Graeffelickheyt, Earledome; and thus much of Prosodie.

AN ENGLISH GRAMMAR,

EEN ENGELSCH GRAMMATICA,

Om perfect de Engelsche Tale te leeren.

GRAMMATICA, ofte de Letterkonste bestaet in neghen deelen des Spraecks, te weten,

1. Particles ofte Ledekens. 2. A Nounne, een Naem. 3. A Pronounne, Een Voornaem. 4. A Verbe, Een Werck-woord. 5. A Participle, Een Deel-woord. 6. An Adverbe, Een Help-woord. 7. A Præposition, Een voorstellinge. 8. A Conjunction, Een Metvoeginge. 9. An Interjection, Een Tusschenwerpinge.

De eerste onderwijssinghe is het gene dat handelt van de Elementarische beginselen des Spraecks, dewelcke vier zijn, 1. A Letter, Een Letter, 2. A Syllable, Een Syllabe, 3. A Word, Een woord, 4. ende Speech, de affecten daer van.

Een Letter is een Element van waer de Syllaben ende Woorden bare beginfelen nemen, ende in het Engelsch zijnder gemeenlick ses-en-twintigh, te weten,

A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, V, U, W, X, Y, Z.

Pronunciert onse Engelsche Letteren na den toon ofte geluydt, aldus;

Ea, bi, cy, di, ei, ef, gi, ach, ey, ca, el, em, en, o, pi, ku, er, es, ti, yu, dubbel yu, ex, wi, ende z.

Deze Letteren worden in Vocalen ende Consonanten verdeelt.

De Vocalen ofte Klinckers zijn vijf; a, e, i, o, ende u.

De Consonanten ofte Medeklinckers, zijn half Vocalen ofte Stomme.

De Stomme zijn, b, c, d, f, g, k, p, q, t, maer j, ende v zijn Consonanten, wanneer sy komen in eenige woorden voor Vocaal-letteren: als, j in Object, Object, v in Invention, Inventie: Oock y wanneer die komt voor een Vocaal, als in yet, noch, yonder, ginder.

V desgelijcks als sy dubbel ghestelt wordt is een Consonant, als in witte, vernuſt.

H en is geen letter behalven de figure, maer voor een teeken van Aspiration ofte blasinge; als in Thing, Een dingh.

H kan ghestelt worden voor alle Vocalen, als, Have, Habbe, Helpe, Hul, e, Hinde, Hinde, Hogge, Vercken, Huit, Quetsuer.

H komt na dese ses Consonanten, C, G, P, S, T, en W; Als in Chalke, Kalck, Ghost, Geest, Philosophie, Philosphie, Shadow, Schaduwe, These, Dese, What, Wat.

De stomme C ende T hebben dickwils een geluydt met andere Consonanten, hoewel sy verscheydenheyt hebben in de schickinge der redenen met de Vocalen.

C heeft een dubbel over een koninge met K of S. Met K wanneer sy komt voor a, u, ofte o, pronunciertmense als K, gelijk in Call, Custome, Colledge; ende oock in het midden van woorden, als in Crab, Krabbe, Club, Kluppel, C. oock, Klock: ende oock in de laerste syllabe als in Accord pronunciertmen Ackord: Desgelijcks in Crime, Clemencie, pronunciertmen Kriime, Klemencie.

Maer C wort als S gepronunciert, wanneer e ende i in de selve Syllabe volghen; als in Censure, Citie, pronunciertmen Senſure, Censure, Sitie, een Stadt. Doch C heeft een verscheyden geluydt van de voorgaende, wanneer de Aspiration h volghet; als in Childe, Kindt, Such Soodanigh.

T heeft oock het geluydt van C wanneer vele volghende Syllaben beginnen met Vocalen; als in Condition, pronunciertmen Condicion, uyt-

Van de Syllaben.

EEn Syllabe is een geheel deel van een woort van letteren gemaect, ende bestaat in een, ofte vele letteren.

In eene letter, als in een Vocaël, als, a, o: in vele, wanneer vele letteren in een woort i'samen komen, als Camelion. Ende kan zijn ofte Vocalen alleenlick, ofte Vocalen ende Consonanten onder malkander gemenght.

Wanneer Vocalen by malkander worden ghevoeght, zijn sy Diphthongen ghenoemt, ende worden daerom Diphthongen geheeten, overmits sy een dub-bel gheluydt hebben van twee Vocalen. Ende dese Diphthongen bestaan in twee Vocalen, ofte van vele by malkanderen gevoeght.

Van twee gelijke Vocalen, ende deselve gedub-bel, zijn dese navolgende; als ee in Sleepe, ofte oo in Booke.

Versheyden; als ai in Faith, Geloove; au in Authority, Bevel; ea in Reason, Reden; ei

Een Engelsche Grammatica.

in Receive, Ontfangen; eo in People, Volck;
oa in Oare, een Riem; oi in Void, Ledigh; ende ou in Would, Woude.

Vele; waer drie Vocalen i'samen komen, als eau in Beautie, Schoonheyt.

Wanneer Vocalen ende Consonanten onder een i'samen gevoeght in een woort komen, als in Crime, Schuld.

Daer zijn Syllaben die seven ofte acht letteren hebben, als in Knottes, Kroepen, Strength, Stercke.

Geen Syllabe en kan bestaan minder dan in twee
Stomme letteren, ofte Half-vocalen.

In 't beginfel van een woort, loof en twee Stomme ofte Half-vocalen nemmermeer i'samen, dan alleenlick Sl, Sm, Sn, als in Slaye, Doot-slaen, Smoke, Roock, Snake, Slange. Want andere van de Half-vocalen zijn Stomme, als Sc in Scarfe, Schaers, Sp in Spice, Specerje, St in Sticke, Stockken, Bl in Black, Swart, Cl in Clarke,
Klerck, Fl in Flint, Key-steen, Gl in Glove,
Hant-schoen, Pl in Plafe, Plactse, Gn in Gnat, Mugge, Kn in Knave, Boeve, Br in Bread, Broot,
Cr in Creame, Room, Dr in Dreame, Droom,
Fr in Frogge, Kickvoersch, Gr in Grave, Grast, Pr in Practise, Practijck, Tr in Trencher, Tilloor, ende Sw in Swan, Swane.

In het midden ofte in het eynde van een woort konnen sy al te-met komen, maer Q gaet alsijds voor de Vocaël u, als in Quake, Beven.

De meeste swarigheyt voor de Nederlanders ende andere Natien is geligen in het uyt spreken van th, ende wh, welcke moeten ghepronuncieert worden met een tiffende tonge, komende van het gehemelte van den monde; derhalven soo hebbe ick eenige van de alder swaerste woorden van onse Engelsche Tale uyt-ghelosen, om den Leeraer daer in te ooffenen, namelick dese navolgende:

C A P. V.

Van het Verbum, ofte het woord.

EEN Verbum beteekent een werckinge, dat gedaen ofte geleden wordt; ende daer van zijn in de Engelsche Tale tweederley: 1. Active, Werckende, 2. Passive, Lydende, ende Neutrall.

B 2

Als,

An English Grammar.

Als, I love God, Ick beminne Gods: Wee fight for our native Countrie, Wy vechten voor ons Vaderlands. Passive. I am beaten, Ick ben geslagen: They are hungry, Sy-lieden zijn hungerigh.

De Verba ofte Werck-woorden, zijn ofte personèlick, ofte onpersonèlick.

Tot het Verbum behoort Getal. 1. Singular, Als, I, Ick, Thou, Ghy ofte Du, Hee, Hy, Shee, Sy. Plurall. Wee, Wy-lieden, Ye, or You, Ghy-lieden, They, Sy-lieden. Ende worden met dese voornamen uytgedrukt.

Singular. I love, Ick minne, Thou lovest, Ghy ofte du mint, He loveth, Hy mint.

Plurall. Wee love, Wy minnen, Ye or you love, Ghy ofte ghy-lieden mint, They love, Sy ofte Sy-lieden minnen.

De onpersonèlicke Verba zijn, die sonder toedoen van menschen geschieden, ende worden bekend door dit ledelen It; Als, It blowes, Het waeyt, It raines, Het regent, It lightneth, Het blick-semt, It thunders, Het dondert.

Oock de onpersonèlicke werck-woorden konnen door One, Men, ende It, Het, uyghedrukt worden, Als, One loves, Men mint. One sayes, Men seydt, It is said, Het wort geseydt, It is believed, Het wort geloof.

Achter personèlicke werck-woorden, volgen somtijds Pronounes ofte Voor-namen in de derde Casus ofte Geval; Als, It repenteth me, Het berouwt my, It delights you, Het lust u, It was a griefe to him, Het was hem leet, ofte het verdreet hem.

Daer zijn oock behulpige werck-woorden, Als, To have, Hebben, To be, Wesen, zijn, ofte worden, sonder welckers behulp geen Verba konnen gebogen worden, nocht de personen ende onderscheyde tijden der Werck-woorden uytgebeeld.

Alle de Verbes Actives, ofte werckende werck-woorden beduyden een sekere werckinge met een Pronoun ofte Voornaem, by-gevoeght van het gene dat werckt, Als, I love my Countrie, Ick beminne mijn Vaderland; He ploughs the land, Hy ploeght het land; The enemies have spoiled all, De vyanden hebben het al verdurven.

De Passive Verbes ofte lijdende Werck-woorden worden alsijds met een Substantive ofte selfstandigh Werck-woords uytgedrukt, Als, I am beaten, Ick worde geslagen; I am instructed, Ick worde onderwisen: in sulcker voegen, dat de lijdende werck-woorden alijts by haer hebben in het Eenvoudt dese teekenen, Am, Ben, Art, Wierdt, ende Is, Is; ende in de Meervoudt, de drie personen, door Are, Zijn ofte Worden.

Een Engelsche Grammatica.

Van de Neutrall Verbes ofte Werck-woorden des geenerleyen aerts.

Dese Neutrall Verbes ofte Werck-woorden die geen werckinge nocht lijdinge uyt en drucken, worden geenerleye ofte oneygene werck-woorden genaemt; Als; I shine, Ick schijne, I glister, Ick blinke, I flourish, Ick bloeye, I am, Ick ben, He is, Hy is, ofte by wort: ende oock dusdanige werck-woorden, Als, To stand, Staen, To consist, Bestaen, To arise, Op-staen.

Tot dit geslacht behooren oock de Inchoativen, Als, I am warme, Ick worde warm, I take notice, Ick worde gewaer, ofte ick neme kennisse.

Onpersonèlicke Actives ofte werckende woorden, volgen na het wordeken One ofte Men, Als, One doth, Men doet, One reports, Men verhaelt ofte men seght, Men works for their meate, Men werckt voor hare kost; Men fight for their Countrie, Men vecht voor haer Vaderlant, Onpersonèlicke Passives ofte lijdende werck-woorden, volgen na het wordeken There, Daer, ende Is, Words: Als, There is wrought, Daer wort gewrocht, There is done, Daer wort gedaen, There is said, Daer wort geseyt.

Onpersonèlicke Neutrals, ofte geenerleye woorden volgen na het wordeken It, Het: Als, It freeeth, Het vrieft, It hailes, Het hagelt, It delighteth, Het vermaecht, It hapneth, Het geschiedt, ofte het gebeurt.

Van de Moods ofte wyfen der vervoegingen.

DE Werck-woorden worden na vijf wyfen gedeclineert, gebogen ofte verandert. De Indicative moods ofte Toonende wyse, beestmen in dese reden; He learneth his lesson, Hy leert sijn lesse. 2. De Imperative ofte Gebiedende wyse beestmen in dese reden, Learn thou thy lesson, Leert ghy dijn lesse. 3. De Optative ofte Wenschende wyse, hoortmen als men seght, Oh that I learned, learned, Och dat ick leerde. 4. De Potentiall, ofte de vermoghende wijze wort bekend door May, Can, Might, Would, ende Should: Als, That I may love, Dat ick mach beminnen, That I might run, Dat ick mocht loopen, Because he was, Om dat hy was ofte ware, If I should fall, Indien ofte soo ick soude vallen, &c.

De Subjunctive, ofte de aenvoegende wijze, volghet altyt dese woordkens, When, Wanneer, That, Dat, To the end that, Op dat, Because That, Om dat, If that, Indien dat, In case that, Ingeval dat: Als, When I love, Wanneer ick minne, That I learne, or to the end that I learne, Dat, ofte op dat ick leere, Because I feare, Om dat ick vrees, If that, if so be, or in case that I come, Indien dat, by aldien dat, ofte in geval dat ick come, &c.

De Infinitive moode, ofte onbepaalde wijze, de welcke geen sekeren persoon, nochte getal, nochte tijt en bepaelt, wort in 't Engelsch altyt bekend door dit woordken To, die altyt de Infinitive moode ofte onbepaalde wijze voor-gaet: Als, To love, Te minnen, ofte minnen, To hate, Te haten, ofte haten, To learne, Te leeren, ofte leeren, To carrie, Te dragen, ofte dragen.

Van de Tenses ofte Tijden, waer door een Verbum uyt-gesproken wort.

Daer zijn in onse Engelsche spraecke vijftijden, namentlick,

1. De Present ofte tegenwoordigen tijt: Als, I love, or doe love, Ick minne.

2. De Præterimperfect, onvoorleden ofte onvolkomen tijt: Als, I loved, or did love, Ick beminde; wiens tecken is did.

3. De Præterperfect ofte voorleden tijt: Als, I have loved, Ick hebbe bemint, ofte gemint; wiens tecken is have.

4. De Præterpluperfect, ofte voor-voorleden tijt: Als, I had loved, Ick hadde bemint; wiens tecken is had.

5. De Future, ofte toe-komenden tijt: Als, I shall or will love, Ick sal ofte wil beminnen; wiens tecken is shall or will.

Noteert, dat de Indicative, ofte de betoonende wijze van den tegenwoordigen tijt, wort gheformeert van de Infinitive ofte onbepaalde wijze;

Als, To love, neemt wech To, ende voeght daer by de voor-naem ende eerste persoon I, Ick, soo hebt ghy de Indicative, ofte toonende wijze, ende den tegenwoordigen tijt van alle werckende woorden: Als, I love or doe love, Ick minne, I teach, Ick leere, I read, Ick lese, I heare, Ick hoore, komende van de Infinitive, To love, To teach, To read, To heare; Insgelijcs wort de komende tijt van de Infinitive ofte onbepaalde geformeert, als men daer shall ofte will by voeght: Als, I shall love God for his goodnesse sake, Ick sal Gods beminnen om sijne goedertierenheyt wille, I shall teach him the truth, Ick sal hem de waerheyt leeren, He will heare Gods word, Hy wil Gods Woort hooren.

Merckt oock dat alle werck-woorden die gesproken worden in den tegenwoordigen tijt, ende in de tweede ende derde persoon, eyndigen in st, ende al-te-met in s: Exempel; Thou lovest, Ghy mint, Thou teacheest, Ghy leert, Thou readest, Ghy leest, Thou hearest, Ghy hoort: Ende in de derde persoon in th: Als, He loveth, Hy mint, He teacheth, Hy leert, He readeth, Hy leest, He heareth, Hy hoort, &c.

Om te besluyten, merckt oock dat de meestendeel van alle Engelsche Participia, ofte deelwoorden, gesproken in den voor-leden ende voor-voorleden tijt (uyt-genomen eenige ongeregelde) mogen eyndighen in d, t, ende n: Als, Loved, Bemint, Taught, Geleert, Beaten, Geslagen. I have loved, Ick hebbe bemint, I have taught, Ick hebbe geleert, I have beaten, Ick hebbe geslagen. I had read, Ick hadde gelezen, I had wrought, Ick hadde gewrocht, I had hidden, Ick hadde verbor-gen, &c.

An English Grammar.

Een Semi-colon, is een teekken van sijn adem wat langer op te houden, ende neemt half de spacie tusschen een Comma ende een Colon, ende oock tusschen een Colon ende een Period, ende wort geteekent aldus ( ; ) Exempel; We must make benefit of our time; age cometh quickly: neither is the latter age so good as the former. Wy moeten profijt maken van onsen tijt; Den ouderdom komt snellick: Noch is de leste eeuweso goet als de voorgaende.

Een Colon is de middel distinctie van een sententie ofte reden, daer de reden een vol verstant van best, ende nochtans niet voleyndicht en is, ende is geteekent aldus ( : ) Exempel; Even as we perceive the shadow of a Dyall to have gone, but discerne it not going: And fruit and grasse appeareth to have increased, but is not seen of any to encrease: So also the growth of wits, seeing it consisteth of small encreases, is perceived by distance of time: Dat is; Een gelijck als wy bemerken dat de schaduw van een Sonne-wijser voort-gaet, maer den gangh niet en kennen onderscheyden: Ende vrucht ende gras blijkt gewassen te hebben, maer niet gesien wort van yemant hoe het wast: Alsoo oock den wasdom van vernuft, dewijle die bestaet in langhsame toeneminge, wort gemerckt door langheyt des tijts.

Een Full point, ofte een Periodus, is een volle distinctie van den adem langh op te houden ofte te pauſeren, ende wort gheseten, het slot ofte bestuyt van een reden, daer den sin volkomelick mede gesloten is: ende wort daerom a Full point or a Period genaemt, om dat daer door alle ofte een deel van de andere teekenen ( na gelegentheyt ) kunnen begrepen worden; ende soo daer noch eenige reden navolghs, die moet met een groote ofte Hoofst-letter beginnen, ende wort geteekent aldus, ( . )

Een Parenthesis (ofte Tusschen-stelling) is een ofte meer woorden, die in de sententie ofte reden besloten zijnde, de selve meerder verklaringhe doen geven, de welcke ofsy daer al schoon somtijts uytgelaten wierden, soo soude nochtans de reden volmaecte kunnen wesen: Ende dese Tusschen-gheselde woorden worden met twee halve manen, ofte met twee naer elck ander ghebogen streckskens afgeteekent; aldus ( ) Exempel: The Prince (because the enemies doe threaten warrs) doth fortifie the cities with souldiers and weapons: Dat is; Den Prince (om dat den vyand den oorlogh ons aen-dreyghs) doet de Frontier-steden met krijghs-lieden ende wapenen verstercken: He that is a Ruler over another, which (whether they will or noe) can constrain them to followe his command: Dat is; Die is een Heerscher over een ander, de welcke (ofsy willen ofte niet) hun davingen kan sijn bevel na te komen.

Een Interrogation ofte Vraginge wort met twee stipplkens afgeteekent, de hooghsse met besaertsen opwaerts, komende op het eynde van een woort, aldus, ( ? ) Exempel; When shall we come to an end? Wanneer sullen wy ten eynde komen? Who can take delight in such dishonesty deedes? Wie kan behagen hebben aen sulcke oneerliche daden?

Een Admiration (ofte Verwonderinge) is geteekent aldus, ( ! ) ende wort gebruyckt achter aen een reden: Als, Ay what a thing is that! Ey wat een dingh is dat! O what a fine city! O wat een schoone stadt!

Invocation ofte Aen-roeping; Als, O God preserve mee! O Gods bewaert my! O Lord assist mee! O Here staet my by!

Eeni-ge zijn van Rejoycing ofte Verheuginge: Als, O what a sweete delight! O wat een soet vermaeck! O what a brave souldier! O wat een braef soldaet.

Complaint ofte Klachte: Als, O woe mee miserable man! O wie my elendigh mensch! O how will this now end! Och hoe sal dat noch eyndigen!

Een Apostrophy is een teekken van de afsnijdinge van een Vocabel op het eynde van een woort; Als, Th' example, D'Exempel, Th' other, D'ander; in plaets van, The example, The other: Oock by de Poeten gebruyckt op het eynde van een woort om klanck-maet te geven.

Een Devision ofte Verdeeling is een teekken datmen stelt op het eynde van een regel, als het woort daer niet volkomen kan gheselt worden, om te besteecken dat in 't begin van de naest-volgende regel het selfde woort eyndicht, ende gheteeckent aldus, ( - ) Exempel: Condemnation, Verdoemenisse.

Daer zijn noch eenige andere, die weynigh in onse Engelsche tale gebruyckt worden.

Van de Engelsche SYNTAXIS, ofte CONSTRUCTIE.

DE Syntaxis is een gedeelte van de Grammatica, de welke leert de Woorden ende een Reden gevoegelijk by een stellen.

1. Van de Adjectiva die de Substantiva voor-gaen.

A wilde Boare is a terrible beast, Een wilt Ever-wijn is een schrikkelijk beest. A spotted Leopard is a cruell animall, Een ghepleckte Luypart is een wreets gedierte. A gluttonous man is a devouring creature, Een gulsig mensch is een verflindende schepsel. Alwaer noemt, dat wilde ende terrible gaen voor Boare ende beest, Substantiven: Oock spotted, ghepleckt, ende cruell, wreets, zijnde Adjectivall Participles van den Volkomen tijt, gaen voor Leopard ende animall: Als mede gluttonous ende devouring, zijnde Adjectivall Participles van den Teghenwoordigen tijt, voor man ende creature.

Doch al te-met volgen de Adjectiven de Substantiven, Als voor exempel: He had neither penknife good, nor whet-stone smooth, whereon to grind his knife, Hy en hadde noch penmes goet, noch slijp-steen glat, waer op sijn mes te slijpen. Hier merckt, dat good ende smooth de Substantiven volgen; welke maniere van spreken oock gemeyn is in de Duytsche Tale.

Desgelijcks in het verklaren van de hoedanigheyt ofte de reden van een dingh; Als, This knife is sharpe, Dit mes is scherp; in plaetse van, This is a sharpe knife, Dit is een scherp mes.

An wort gestelt voor A, wanneer het naestvolgende woort met een Vocaël begint, Als, An Asse, Een Ezels, An Oxe, Een Osse, gelijckerwijs te voorn geseyt is.

Daer is oock wat onderscheyd tusschen None, ende Noe, het welck is dit: None en wil niet lijdē yet van de Substantive te geschieden: Als, For noe man dreads, but he that cannot fight, Want geen mensch en schrickt, dan de gene die niet vechten en kan: Ende niet, None man dreads. And none serves God in truth, but onely faithfull men, Ende geen (ofte niemant) dient Gods in waerheyt, dan alleen de geloovige menschen: Ende niet, And noe serves.

Ten eersten, Noteert oock, dat All, hoe-wel het is van den aert der Meervoudt, nochtans oock gebruyckt wort in de Singular ofte Eenvoudt, wanneer als de Meervoudt is gebreeckende; Als, All flesh is grasse, Alle vleesch is gras.

Ten tweeden, Wanneer een of komstige Voornaem, ofte dit Adjectivall ledeken The, ofte A ende An, tusschen beyde komen: Als, All this day, Al desen dagh, All their light, Al haer licht, All my strength, Al mijn kracht, All the time, Al den tijt, All an Apple, Al een appel, Al a booke, Al een boeck.

Ten derden, wort het Collective genomen, als in dese: All good that may be thought, Al goet dat mach bedacht worden. All ill that can be wrought, Al quaet dat kan gewrocht worden.

Many, is oock het Eenvoudigh getal onderworpen, wanneer A ende An volgen. Exempel: Many a wound is given, Menigh een wonde wort gegeven. Many an Oxe was slaughtered, Menigh een Osse was geslachtet.

2. Syntaxis van de Pronounes ofte Pronomina.

DE Adjectivall ofte By-voeghelike Pronomina, worden verscheydenlick gebruyckt, bysonderlick in dese ses, My, Thy, Her, Our, Your, ende Their, welke in de ghedeelte des Spracks met self-standige Naem-woorden konn. en gesproken worden; Als, My father, Mijn vader, Thy mother, Dijn moeder, Her brother, Haer broeder, &c.

Doch, Mine, Thine, Hers, Ours, Yours, Theirs, ende Who, een vragende Voornaem, en komē niet over een met de bovenste, overmits dāse een self-standigh Naem-woort achter kaer willen gestelt hebben; maer worden gemeenlick gebruyckt met bewijfende Voor-namen, op dese maniere: Als, This is mine, Dit is de mijne. That is thine, Dat is de uw, This is ours, Dat is de onse, That is yours or theirs, Dat is de uwent, ofte de harent; ende vragende wijs, Who is that? Wie is dat?

Daer-en-boven, dese Pronomina, My, Thy, His, Her, Our, Your, ende Their, mogen met selfe gecomponeert worden; Als, My selfe, Mijn selven, Thy selfe, Vselven, His selfe, Sijn selven, Her selfe, Haer selven, Our selves, Ons selven, Your selves, V-liden selver, Their selves, Haer selven: Ende het is oock gebruyckelick dat wy seggen, Himselfe, ende Themselves, Hem-selve, ende Haer-selven, Ende oock noch uytdruckelicker worden sy met hare Primitiva gesteld; Als, I my selfe, Ick mijn selve, Thou thy selfe, Ghy u selve, He himselfe, H hem-selve: welcke maniere van spreken duydclicker is, als ofte men soude seggen, I, Thou, He, Ick, Ghy, Hy, &c.

3. Van de Casus, ende haer onderscheyde met de namen.

DEse Hulp-woorden ofte Ledekens, The, A, Of, To, From or fro, maken het onderscheyt tusschen de Casus: Als,

Nom. A King, Een Koningh; The Kings, De Koningen.

Gen. Of a King, Van een Koningh, Of the Kings, Van de Koningen.

Dat. To a King, Aen ofte tot een Koningh, To the Kings, Aen ofte tot de Koningen.

Ablat. From a King, Van een Koningh, From the Kings, Van de Koningen: Ende dese is de Genitivus gelyck.

Noteert. Wy hebben een maniere van spreken in onse Engelsche tale, die oock de Nederduysche gemeyn is, waer door de Genitivus Casus wort uytgedruckt, als men maers de Substantive byvoeght. By exempel: Gods Word is pure, Gods Woort is reyn, Mans salvation is from Christ, Des menschen zaligheyt is van Christo.

4 Van de Conjunctie met het Verbum Be.

HET Verbum Be, wort selden in den Tegenwoordigen tijt gebruyckt, ofte That sal ge-meynelick de Conjunctie If volgen; Als, If that true valour be a child of warre, then let policie be accounted her companion, Is dat ware kloetmordigheyt zy een kind van den oorlogh, dan laet de policie haer een mede-geselle geacht zijn.

Van dese maniere van spreken zynder verscheyden: Als, Suppose all men be honest, Genomen alle menschen zijn eerlick; Imagine pleasure be a concomitant of vertue, Imaginceert, genoeghte zy een mede-geselle van deught.

Ende hoe wel in dese ende diergelicke spreucken de Conjunctie That ende If, het secken van de Infinitivus To, ende het Verbum Be, zijn ontbrekende, nochtans worden sy daer by verstaen: Als, Suppose that all men be honest, Genomen dat alle menschen eerlick zijn; Imagine that if pleasure be a concomitant of vertue, Imaginceert indien dat ghenoechte zy een mede-geselle van deught; Ofte andersins met de Infinitivus: Suppose all men to be honest, and pleasure to be a companion of vertue, Genomen alle menschen eerlick te zijn, ende genoeghte een mede-geselle der deught.

To wort alijts voor de Infinitivus modus gesteld, Als, To feare, Te vreesen, To be feared, Gevreesd te worden.

Wanneer twee Verba in een sententie komen, de laatste is de Infinitive Moode; Als, I came to instruct, Ick quam te onderwijzen; He went to fight, Hy ginghte vechten.

Daer zijn oock eenige boste ende oude verstaen spreucken, komende van het ghemeyn peupel ofte volck, die heden-daeghs niet gebruyckelick en zijn: Als, I be negligent, thou be honest, Ick ben onachtsaem, ghy zijt eerlick. Want het is meer ghemeyn te seggen, Though I be negligent, yet be thou diligent, Hoe wel ick onachtsaem ben, nochtant zijt ghy naerlijgh.

Oock Were in de Imperfect ofte den Onvolkomen tijt, ende in de Singular ofte Eenvout getal, zijnde de eerste Persoon, wort misbruyckt: want Am te seggen is veel beter. Ende dit vele zy geseyt van de Syntaxis in het korte.
